Slippery Rock Service Station Holdup Scene

Attendant At Point Service Station Held Up By Lone Bandit

ROBBER SECURES $13 AND ESCAPES

Holdup Occurs About 6 O'clock A. M.—Robber Is Young Man

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Feb. 1.—State and county police authorities are hunting today for a bandit who held up the Point Service Station here at 6:10 a. m., took $13 from the night attendant, Raymond Grine, 20, and then drove away in the direction of Butler.

The Point Service Station is located near Slippery Rock State Teachers' College on Route 8 and is one of the larger stations in this district. Mr. Grine goes on duty in the evening and works through to the next morning. About 6 o'clock this morning he was serving a truck driver in the garage when a young man about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall, and wearing a beard, walked in.

Waits His Turn

While Grine was waiting on the truck driver the stranger waited without saying a word. As the truck driver walked out and started away the stranger pulled a nickel plated gun from his pocket and ordered Grine to give him the contents of the till.

With the gun following his every motion Grine went to the cash drawer and pulled out the $13 in it and handed the money over to the bandit. Shoving the money in his pocket the bandit ordered Grine to get behind a curtain. He then left.

Immediately Grine called G. E.

Testimony Confusing In Hauptmann Case

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FLEMINGTON, Feb. 1.—The story hasn't been told.

The trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the Lindbergh kidnaping goes into its 23rd sensational day today, but behind the black headlines, behind the millions of words and the scores of witnesses and the mob excitement, the case isn't solved.

No persons sitting in this courtroom day after day believes that what we are heaving is the solution to the kidnaping. It may be a link, it may be the truth in part, Hauptmann may be guilty or innocent, but the whole truth hasn't been told. Pieces don't fit. The case is tangled with loose ends. There are too many angles.

More Confused

And as the trial unfolds, like snippings of movie film pieced crazily together, the issues are infinitly more confused.

Today the whole case has reached a high point of confusion and conjecture brought to a head by the four strange defense witnesses, the forgetful Swede, the Hungarian with the tatooed arm, the speakeasy proprietor with the lost dog story,

Steel Workers Hear Proposal By Lewis

Crowding courtroom number one from the stairway to the judge's bench, an estimated one thousand steel workers heard the plan of Alderman Richard R. Lewis, of endeavoring to open the New Castle plant of the Carnegie Steel Company, Thursday evening.

Alderman Lewis had previously announced through the press that he had some information to impart to former employes of the plant and asked them to come to the courthouse for an open meeting. They responded in such numbers that several hundred were unable to get in to hear the proceedings.

Reads Letters

After explaining the reason for the meeting, Lewis read two letters from I. Lamont Hughes, president of the Carnegie Steel Company, one dated in February, 1934, and one in January, 1935. The first letter stated that the increased use of open hearth steel made it unlikely that the present plant would open until business conditions warranted

Wimer Refuses To O. K. Refund

Says He Cannot Legally Pay Refund To Dance Hall Proprietors

City Controller Earl Wimer today formally notified council in session in the city building that he cannot legally approve various vouchers in his office covering refunds to proprietors of dance halls where liquor is dispensed nor to proprietors of dance halls.

His letter said that "I feel the city should not institute the practice of using its general revenue for rewarding certain individuals for good behavior and that it should collect only the amount it intends to retain rather than to collect 100 per cent then return 90 per cent."

He added that he feels that a plan can be worked out, thus eliminating extra expense and work on the part of the police department, city clerk, controller and treasurer.

Last year council adopted an ordinance sponsored by Mayor Mayne which placed a charge on dancing in places where liquor is dispensed and also in dance halls.

The bill provided for a refund of 90 per cent of the monies paid in providing police found the places had been conducted properly and police service was not required.

The proprietors of the places paid in the full amounts and were to receive all of their money excepting $3.00 a month in a refund, but so far the money has been held at the treasurer's office.

Some of the proprietors have requested the refund, it has been learned.

Police Get Clues On Companions Of Bank Bandit

Believe Two Implicated In Bessemer Bank Holdup Attempt Are Known

CAPTURED MAN IS BROUGHT HERE

Police Of District On Lookout For Colored Woman And White Man

State, county and city police today kept a sharp vigil for the white man and Negress who were with Edward Scales, alias "Jack of Diamonds," when the trio was foiled in an attempted robbery of the State Bank at Bessemer shortly after noon Thursday.

Leads developed by state troopers, Sheriff Pritchard and Youngstown detectives, give promise of the pair's capture.

Scales was captured when he was either unable to get into the bandit's car or trusted escape to flight by foot. The woman drove the car toward Hillsville in making the escape. Cities in bordering states are being watched.

It was "Jack of Diamonds," whose right name is Scales, first bank robbing attempt and although he held a hand loaded with a .32 automatic revolver, his play was trumped by the cashiers, Charles Weitz and V. I. Mandich and Chief of Police Archie Shoup, of Bessemer, who captured Scales shortly after he fled from the bank building.

Scales Carried Gun

Both Scales and his white companion entered the bank while the Negress remained at the wheel of the car, but it was Scales, face covered with a blue bandana who leveled the loaded revolver at Weitz who had just finished doing business with a customer at number two window.

As the white companion stood at window number one, near the door and Weitz looked into the grim black automatic he thought quickly and dropped to the floor. He shouted for aid. His drop to the floor and yells not only frightened Scales, alias "Jack of Diamonds," and his bandit pal, but brought V. I. Mandich, assistant cashier, from a rear room.

Two Killers To Pay Penalty In Electric Chair

Mais And Legenza To Be Executed At Richmond On Saturday

DESPERADOES HAVE NOW "GOT RELIGION"

Both Of Law Breakers Are Near Breakdown As Hour Of Doom Nears

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 1.—The two hard boiled killers awating death in Virginia's electric chair here tomorrow, pasty faced Robert Mais, and stolid, broken legged Walter Legenza, have "got religion."

They have less than 24 hours to live, and they were singing psalms.

These were the "tough guys" who told Virginia authorities a week or so ago to hurry up and get it over with. These were the two who said they'd never crack as the shadow of the "hot seat" darkened their earthly eyes. These were the men, too, who told police, boastingly, that they'd "killed plenty."

Must Go To Chair

Tomorrow they must die for the murder of E. M. Huband, Federal Reserve Bank truck driver. Soon after sunup they will go separately into the white walled death room in the state penitentiary. A few minutes later, they will be rolled out on the white, rubber tired cart, after 2300 volts of electricity has crashed

We had been lead to believe that there was no "billions," only on a government "deficit," but there is just as much money as there ever was. Nobody ate any during the depression, it's just planted deeper in the rat hole, that's all.

Defense Expert Gives Testimony On Handwriting

East St. Louis Man Says Ransom Notes Not Written By Hauptmann

POINTS OUT REASONS FOR HIS DEDUCTIONS

Tedious Technical Testimony Is Presented In Case During Morning

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 1.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann did not write the Lindbergh ransom notes, John M. Trendley, of East St. Louis, Ill., the first of the defense handwriting experts, testified today at the trial of Hauptmann who is accused of murdering the Lindbergh baby.

Trendley, 67, a wizard in penmanship, was asked by Edward J. Reilly, chief defense counsel, if he had studied all evidence introduced by the state's array of handwriting experts. Trendley said he had.

"As a result of your examination of the ransom notes and the 'request' writing of Hauptmann are you able to give an opinion whether the defendant, Hauptman, wrote the ransom notes," asked Reilly.

"I believe he did not," said Trendley, in a positive tone.

Studied Ransom Notes

Trendley said he studied the ransom notes for over two hours. He also had carefully examined specimens of Hauptmann's penmanship. He had studied the various charts the state had introduced in connection with the handwriting.

Reilly drew the witness' attention to charts prepared by Albert S. Osborn, dean of the state's chirographical corps.

Q.—I show you the ransom nursery note and call your attention to the "d". Do you find on Mr. Osborn's charts the "d" which begins the note?

Trendley got down from the stand and looked over the array of great black and white exhibits on the wall.

"I cannot find it here," he said.

Q.—Will you point out if the "ear" of "d-ear" is on Mr. Osborn's chart.

A.—It is not on there.

Reilly was moving in on a broad attack on the formidable testimony of the state handwriting experts.

Attacks Photographs

Q.—Isn't it a fact, Mr. Trendley, that when the photographs of Hauptmann's writing and the ransom notes were taken, only certain letters and words from the various writings were photographed.

A.—Yes.

Reilly then began to bring out how certain unusual things in the ransom notes were not photographed in the state's exhibits.

One of these was an exclamation

LONG RESUMES HIS LOUISIANA "PROBE"

Kingfish Back At Baton Rouge

Faces Threatened "Shotgun Rebellion" Of Outraged Citizens

HAS ARMED GUARD PERSONAL ESCORT

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 1.—In the face of a threatened shotgun rebellion" by outraged citizens, Senator Huey Long, whose rise as dictator of Louisiana is viewed as the first serious menace to America's Republican form of government, today moved to purge the state of the few remaining public officials who have dared oppose his formidable political machine.

Fresh from a new attack on vested interests in the senate, in which he charged that the Standard Oil Company "plotted" his assassination, Long stormed back into his feudal domain today from Washington.

He stepped from a train at the station here early this morning into a phalanx of heavily armed militiamen and, accompanied by a cordon of motorcycle policemen, with sirens screaming, was sped northward by automobile to the capital at Baton Rouge.

To Resume Probe

At the capital, infested with a regiment of militiamen, armed for service in the field last Saturday after Senator Long "revealed" a "plot" on his life, he was to resume his radio broadcast inquiry into the alleged assassination conspiracy.

Long will fill the role of prosecutor-in-chief before the microphone in the supereme court chambers at his $5,000,000 33-story skyscraper capitol.

More than 100 witnesses, including a dozen officials of cities and parishes obnoxious to the Long regime because they had dared question his dictatorship, and 75 members of the Square Deal association, arrested by the militia at the airport last Saturday, have been served with subpoenas.

To Summon Legislature

The inquiry is expected to last two days. Then, on Sunday night, it was learned, Long will have Governor O. K. Allen summon the legislature into special session, the fourth extra assemblage since last August, all called to pass sumptuary legislation to tighten Long's grip on the state's election machinery and courts.

"Evidence" gathered at the probe, International News Service learned, will be used to seize the city and parish governments of New Orleans, Shreveport, Baton Rouge and Alexandria, hotbeds of opposition to the 'kingfish' efforts to set up an absolute monarchy.

Meanwhile, the possibility of an armed uprising against Long became more ominous.

Income Tax

No. 5
NORMAL TAX AND SURTAX RATES

The Revenue Act of 1934 provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, four per cent on the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The act provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax of an earned income credit, that is, 10 per cent of the amount of the earned net income but not in excess of 10 per cent of the amount of the net income. The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against the net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income". The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets. On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4.000 and not in excess of $6,000, the rate is four per cent of such excess. The surtax upon a surtax net income of $6,000 is $80 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is five per cent of such cess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $8,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $1,000,000 is $533,000, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $1,000,000, 59 per cent, the maximum rate, is applicable to such excess, in addition to the $533,000. Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$8,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance (surtax net income)	7,500
Earned income credit	850
Net income subject to normal tax	6,500
Surtax at 4 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $4.000 but not over $6,000, 4 percent on $2,000	80
Surtax at 5 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $6,000 but not over $8,000, 5 percent on $1,500	75
Total surtax	155
Normal tax, 4 percent on $6,650	266
Total normal tax and surtax	421

Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instructions on form 1040 relating to the earned-income credit and surtax, as well as all other instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

Lewis' Proposal

Lewis then proceeded to his plan. Briefly it is this. That the company be asked to install open hearth equipment here and the the men pay the cost of it by permitting deductions from their pay envelopes.

Following his outline of the plan Lewis asked for comment and Hugh Hannon took the speakers stand.

Hannon spoke in favor of the plan and asked for a vote on the sentiment of the men gathered in the courtroom. By what appeared to be a unanimous vote, they endorsed the idea and voted to ask Mr. Hughes to come to New Castle to discuss it.

Alderman Lewis then asked the men to come to his office on South Mill street to sign a petition asking that this plan be carried out and said that a delegation should take the petition into the office of Mr. Hughes. The meeting then adjourned.

Mullentowners Plan For Party

Plan Valentine Party At West Side School Building For February 14

The Mullentowners, at a recent meeting of the officers, decided to hold a gathering in the West Side school on February 14, St. Valentine's Day, which will be a big affair. It will be in the form of a Valentine party, with hearts being given out, like they were forty years ago, when Herb McIlvenny gave out a heart shaped Valentine with a cupid's dart piercing it.

Dan Reeble is chairman of the affair. He has appointed a most efficient committee: Pearl Johns White will have charge of the entertainment, while Marie Wells Phillips will look after the refreshments. The entire event will be most outstanding in every way, and will mark the first held in quite sometime.

and the wooly-haired attacker of women, who paraded before the strange, granite prisoner, all of them with alibis to save him.

Not one of the four was an ideal witness. The credibility of each was open to attack. But you cannot laugh off or lightly dismiss four witnesses, three of whom put the accused man in a logical, natural spot for him to be on the night of the kidnaping, and one of whom puts two other men near the place where the state says Hauptmann was that night.

Must Dismiss Others

If you dismiss them, then dimiss Millard Whited, who said he saw Hauptmann on a vague day in February on the outskirts of the Lindbergh estate. Dismiss old Amandus Hochmuth who, shaking with age, said he saw Hauptmann drive by in a car with a ladder in it. Dismiss pretty Hildegarde Alexander, whose credibility the defense attacks. They were the prosecution mainstays.

Whom do you believe? now that the trial is in its second month, and millions of words of evidence have been heard, what is there for anyone to believe? most important, what does the jury believe?

Two Marooned On Ice Are Rescued

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—Breaking through the ice at Holland Island at the mouth of the Potomac, the Coast Guard Cutter "Apache" today rescued Cornelius Wallace, of the biological survey, and J. E. Sneade, a fisherman, marooned there for eleven days.

The men apparently were none the worse for their experience.

Wallace's launch was frozen in the ice.

through their bodies, and a doctor with a stethoscope has declared them dead.

So will end the meteoric careers of two ringleaders of the famous tri-state gang, men who after they shot their way out of the jail here and were later captured, confessed to lawless acts all up and down the east coast.

Today, with violent legal death only hours away, both were on the verge of a breakdown. Virginia's strict law cloaks their every move in secrecy. But the few who visit the death house whisper to friends as they emerge that Mais and Legenza are near the breaking point.

Spiritual Advisors

The two spiritual counsellors of the condemned, prison chaplain R. V. Lancaster for Mais and Col. Fred W. Seiler of the Salvation Army for Legenza, reported that the two spend most of their time reading the Bible. At intervals, the ministers say, the two men in adjacent death cells chant songs of eternal hope.

The best that the prison commissary can afford in the way of food was supplied the condemned men during their last day on earth.

The spiritual counsellors will pay their last lengthy visit to the prisoners this afternoon. From then on the prisoners will have no more visitors until the two spiritual advisers go to accompany them on the last walk.

Will Claim Bodies

Mais said goodbye to his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mais of Philadelphia, yesterday. Mrs. Mais said she could not stand the ordeal of remaining here through the executions, and left for Philadelphia on a night train.

Mrs. Mais will claim both bodies and send them north.

KNOW WHAT YOU SIGN

FEW persons realize the importance of the simple act of signing their names to contract forms, agreements and legal documents of various kinds. Perhaps it is because most of us in our daily life use our signatures so frequently for friendly identification. Whatever the reason, the average person is extremely careless about the things he signs.

Some of the results of "signing up" before looking are costly and serious. Others are less costly but irritating, such as signing up for something which you think is to be sent on approval, only to find that you have agreed to purchase it.

Any person presenting a legitimate proposal will be glad to have you read and understand every word of an agreement before you sign. Verbal promises do not mean a thing. Beware of the person who says "Just sign on this line as a matter of form. It will not bind you if you change your mind."

Frequent cases are on record of lawsuits filed in the names of persons who did not realize they were agreeing to such action. Furthermore they had unwittingly agreed to give the person representing them and whom they did not know, the greater proportion of all possible money to be collected in the event the suit was successful.

Read before you sign! If rich rewards are promised in some legal action you do not understand, consult with some one you can trust. Be suspicious of solicitors for your signature.

AND HOW MANY ACES TRUMPED?

Dispatches from Washington, where government statisticians are engaged in the annual pastime of reducing to figures and dollars and cents (if any) nearly everything that happened in the past year, bring word that exactly 45,351,707 packs of cards were sold in this country in 1934. The experts point out, additionally, that if this many cards were laid end to end they could encircle the world five times, with a lot left over.

While the statisticians show what mileage is represented in this flood of cards, however, they fail to adduce other important facts: for instance, just how many of these packs represented replacements because the Dear Little Kiddies got into the bridge decks and stole all the Aces and Kings; just how many of those cards initiated family feuds over a wrong lead or a missed discard; or how much winnings and losings they represented in all-night poker games—and how the amounts compare with the stories told to the Little Woman later on.

MODERN TREASURE

Eddie Dowling, actor friend of President Roosevelt, has made a modern discovery which will have more general appeal and prove more enjoyable to thousands of Americans than those recently offered by science and archeology.

In a trunk stored away in a New York home he found the manuscript of an entirely new operetta by the late Victor Herbert. It contains 18 melodies said to be as rich and enjoyable as any others written by that most popular of American composers.

"The Red Mill," "Babes in Toyland," "The Merry Widow," and "Mlle. Modiste" will live again in the new production which the author had entitled "Lavender Lady." Even the name indicates the type of operetta this new one will be; "Lavender Lady" is so appropriate to a Victor Herbert composition.

America had not forgotten and probably never will forget Victor Herbert. This public resurrection of an operetta, the existence of which was known only to the author's daughter and long cherished by her alone, has aroused the interest of an anxious public waiting to again pay tribute to the genius of its author.

GOVERNORS FOR CARS

If the speed of all automobiles was limited by a governor or otherwise to 25 miles an hour the accidents that result solely from driving in excess of that speed would end. Obviously this is so, but it requires only a moment more of reflection to realize that the limitation itself might cause accidents. There are times when it is not only desirable but necessary to put on a burst of speed to avoid them.

In Massachusetts Morgan T. Ryan, the registrar of motor vehicles, has proposed that governors be placed upon the automobiles of persons who have been involved in accidents attributed to reckless driving. He first proposed governors upon all automobiles registered in the state, to hold them to 45 or 50 miles an hour.

Unfortunately, Mr. Ryan's proposal is too rigid, probably, to be of value. For even 15 or 20 miles an hour may be a dangerous speed under some conditions. No governor has been invented that will automatically reduce the speed of a car when the roads are covered with ice or wet leaves, while on modern highways and in modern cars a careful driver may go faster than 50 miles an hour without danger. Limiting the speed of cars driven by persons with a record of recklessness suggets locking the garage door after the car has been smashed.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Trustworthy information from many sources, including the Federal Reserve Board and the Bureau of Labor Statistics, shows that December was marked by sharp gains in factory employment, payrolls and in general business conditions.

There are, in fact, many signs to show that the whole economic situation, and especially the prospects for the future, is vastly improved as compared with that existing a year ago or with any other period of the depression. Employment, in fact, shows a more substantial gain than in any monthly period in the last 15 years.

Employment payrolls are now higher than they were in the fall of 1931 and it is especially significant that the most pronounced improvement has taken place in the durable goods industries, which have hitherto been lagging far behind industries producing foods and textiles and other goods for more or less immediate consumption.

Steel orders increased in number and tonnage last week, accompanied by renewed pressure from automobile manufacturers for deliveries, while stimulated activity in the great rubber factories of Akron, Ohio, has brought a $2,000,000 pay increase to 40,000 workers.

Latest railway freight figures, electric power consumption, bank clearings and retail trade improvement have all contributed to the development of a brighter business picture.

The general situation is encouraging. Continuance of the obvious and definite economic trend sustains the hope that the time is not far distant when recovery will reach such proportions that the relief load, which is now such a substantial item in state and federal budgets, will be reduced materially.

SMALL BOYS, GET UP!

Small boy, don't run to me for sympathy....I'm sorry for you, indeed I am, but I don't intend to baby you. Yes, I know you're just a little baby and I'm worried about that little nose of yours. I'm afraid of what it's going to look like when you grow up. But there's nothing I can do to help you. I'm not God. I'm just your father, and don't come running to me when you're hurt.

I knew it was going to happen. In my fumbling adult way I tried to warn you, prevent your tumble. ....But you WOULD do as you pleased and now I guess you'll have to pay for it. I saw you climb into that chair and I trembled for you. I saw you stand up in it and jump up and down....I took you off and set you on the floor, don't you remember?....But you would insist on climbing back again and then it fell over backwards and you with it and landed squussh! on you soft little nose....And now you're yelling bloody murder and your face is all wrinkled up and red and the tears stream down your cheeks and you're frightened and you're hurt and you're furiously angry. And I suppose you want me to pick you up and cuddle you and feel a paternal joy in the way you cling to me for comfort.

Nix! I'm not going to do it. I love you. I'm proud of you, but I'm not going to be any clinging father I can't teach you anything by picking you and "kissing the place to make it well." I can teach you only by letting you alone....Pick YOURSELF up and go about your business. Get that bottle you were playing with and find that stick with the knob on it and jiggle the stick up and down in the bottle as you did yesterday. Find the cat and hug him. Go look out the window. Let the tears dry on your cheeks. Handle this desperate affair all by yourself. Learn, if you can, that when you fall down and hurt yourself in this world, nobody will pick you up, and you must find your help inside of you, not outside, in me or other people.

Yes, I know you are just a little fellow, and a baby gets a lot of bumps. But you'll be a big fellow some day and get a lot of bumps. ....And I'll not be around then and neither will your mother nor your big sisters, and I wouldn't have you the sort of man who goes running to some one else for comfort whenever he's hurt.

There, small boy, you are smiling already.....You've forgotten your hurt....And I didn't do a thing. I didn't say a word to do. I merely sat here and thought and paid no attention to you....And you did it all by yourself.

ON THE DANGER OF PRAISE

"You never said a word," said she,
"About the dainty little dishes
I plan to serve to you for tea.
So how am I to know your wishes?
I try so hard your tastes to please.
I wish you'd tell me when I strike them.
I'd oftener serve new recipes
If I were certain that you like them."

"My dear," said I, "long years ago,
When you such sweet attention paid me,
Ere I so much had come to know,
I praised the devil's cake you made me.
'Twas chocolate brown and fluffy stuff,
With creamy filling spread throughout it.
I thought I couldn't get enough
Or say enough in praise about it.

"Well, night by night and week by week
Beneath our little roof and gable
You brought—'tis gospel truth I speak—
A devil's cake unto the table.
And finally when I demurred
And from my place in anger shoved it,
You looked surprised and said: "My word!
I thought you told me once you loved it.'

"Since then I have not dared to praise
The dainty dishes that you make me.
Remembering those early days,
I fear too seriously you'd take me.
Whene'er some dainty dish you strike,
This heart of mine is moved to soften,
But if I tell you what I like,
I know you'll serve it once too often."

HE QUALIFIED

The quack was selling an elixir which he declared would make men live to a great age.

"Look at me," he shouted. "Hale and hearty. I'm over three hundred years old."

"Is he really as old as that?" asked a listener of the youthful assistant.

"I can't say," replied the assistant. "I've only worked for him for one hundred years."

And it is said that the first hundred years are the hardest.

SLAVE COLONY IN HAITI

On the west coast of Haiti there is a most unusual colony. It consists solely of American negroes who went there following the Civil war in this country. While this colony practices voodooism, witch doctory and so on they have never mixed with the natives of the island. They govern themselves and wonder of wonders have never been bothered, even during Haiti's many revolutions. Of course they are necessarily rather primitive, but the colony has prospered. They have shipping arrangements whereby they send their products direct to the United States. The preacher of the colony is also their school teacher. He sometimes come to the States to catch up on what is new and takes back as many books, papers and ideas as he can afford.

Some years ago when we lived on a dairy farm, Lester Ramse, Bricelyn, Minn., informs us, we had a hired man whom we nicknamed Whistling Ole. He had a habit of whistling continuously while milking the cows and performed the operation in time to the tune he was whistling at that particular moment.

One day we went away and were unable to return until late in the evening which made it necessary for Ole to do all the milking himself. When we came back Ole was not in the house, and upon looking into the barn, found that it was flooded with milk. We swam in and rescued Ole who was floating around on a milk stool. He explained he had been whistling as usual and keeping time suddenly all the cows in an effort to mark time and from sheer joy inspired by the music let go of their milk.

Bankers Are Optimistic.

Central Press

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—The changed sentiment of bankers is proving a great aid to the Roosevelt administration behind the scenes.

"Banking," published by the American Bankers association, says in its February business review:

"The comparative soundness of business conditions and the prospect of gradual improvement seem to be eliminating from the minds of most business men any idea of either a serious setback or a fortuitous stimulus leading to any substantial and immediate advance . . .

"One feature dominates the situation in these early weeks of the new year. It is a general recognition of the comparatively solidity and stability of fundamental business conditions, notwithstanding such flareups as the excitement over the gold clause cases before the supreme court.

"Indeed, the tendency of business undoubtedly is to discount unfavorable developments so far as they can be foreseen at this point. . . ."

Compare that with what the bankers were saying a year ago.

CONSTRUCTIVE FACTORS

These are "constructive factors" as listed by the publication of the American Bankers association:

"The apparent determination of the administration to start the flow of private capital the calmness with which the business world accepted the new federal budget proposals probable stimulation of construction and allied industries by the work-relief program the encouraging vigor of the automobile business; the greater vitality of the steel industry; activity in retail trade; maintenance of the government's credit; simplifications of the securities and exchange commission's registration requirements which should stimulate the capital market; the absence of further attempts to manipulate the currency and prices; the strong banking situation."

TAX FIGHT

A tax fight is being conducted in Minneapolis by the Minneapolis Star to prevent exemption of valuable property.

That fight may be an eye-opener for other cities that have not investigated what is going on with tax rolls at home.

The Minneapolis situation may not be altogether unique.

A small private school elsewhere in Minnesota tried to finance itself by taking privately owned property in Minneapolis off the tax rolls. The school, a Baptist institution, based exemption of its property on the grounds that it is a religious institution.

Minneapolis, with eight boys in the school, already has been called on to give up $18,000 a year in taxes on downtown property, with more losses in prospect.

The school requested also exemption on property in St. Paul containing a liquor store. The St. Paul council responded by holding up the liquor license.

A few headlines in the Minneapolis Star indicate the intensity of the battle:

"Fight vast tax loss in city . . . Battle turns on property valued at $403,560 deeded to academy. . . . County Auditor Erickson charges transfer was designed 'to find relief from taxes' . . . 'Would open way for wholesale tax evasion,' official charges. . . Charter granted institution in 1854 by territorial legislature basis of claim for exemption."

The academy's trustees have been managing the acquisition of the property through a collateral agreement campaign.

A public schools protective league attacks the collateral agreement plan as "scuttling the tax roll" and as "likely to undermine public school income."

ANOTHER TAX PROBLEM

Democrats in Ohio are beginning to wonder whether they will be returned to office.

In the closing days of the administration of Governor George White, a state sales tax was passed. It bears heavily on food—particularly on food bought in small quantities (as there is a tax on each transaction). In fact, the tax is called a consumers' tax—which has an unpopular ring.

TIME BRINGS MANY CHANGES

Young women should realize that they cannot take the same liberties with middle-aged men as they can with men of their own age.

The young people of today are far less particular in their actions than were their parents.

This does not mean they are less moral.

The middle-aged man, however, usually attributes more than is meant by the actions of the modern young woman.

Their thoughtless words and freedom of action are interpreted too seriously by the older fellows who base their opinions upon a more rigid idea than prevails today.

In excuse for this idea it might be said that the girl of a decade or more ago who acted as the girls do now would have been rightly judged as "not being what she should".

The older fellow fails to take into account the change in viewpoint.

In his day women were of two classes, and only those who were not of good repute smoked in public, bu that is not true today.

The habit is now quite common among some of our finest young women; the stigma attached to the woman-smoker of the nineties cannot be cast on the girls of our time.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1935 Central Press

FRIDAY, FEB. 1.

History Up-To-Date, Feb. 1, 1552—Edward Coke was born in Norfolk, England, destined to become "the great oracle of our law", and stamp his influence indelibly on English and American statues. One tenet he established was:

"The house of every one is for him his castle and fortress, as well for his defense against injury and violence"; in other words, "A man's house is his castle."

This is, of course, the basis of the III and IV amendments to the U. S. Constitution. Minor Coke distinctions:

He was the prosecutor who sent Sir Walter Raleigh to the gallows; and he was first to fear a "Derby", originally called a Coke-hat.

He was himself sent to jail numerous times!

Feb. 1, 1708—Alexander Selkirk was found on Juan Fernandez island.

If he hadn't been, the most widely read book in history, except only the Bible, would not have been written.

In Sept. 1704, while a member of a privateering expedition to the South Seas, 28-year-old Selkirk had a dispute with his captain and at his own request was put on the island with a few ordinary necessities.

He was picked up by the Duke, another privateer, and enabled to return to England where three books concerning his adventures were published before Daniel Defoe, newspaperman took Selkirk as the prototype of the principal character for a newspaper serial, the immortal Robinson Crusoe.

But you're wrong if you believe Juan Fernandez is the island described by Defoe in Robinson Crusoe. He used a West Indian island instead.

Robinson Crusoe became a best-seller while Selkirk was still alive. The Scotsman died at 47 while an officer in the British navy.

Feb. 1, 1842—The first adhesive postage stamps were used in the U. S.

By a British-owned private company which delivered mail in New York faster and less expensively than the government! The company, organized by Henry T. Windsor, English merchant, also originated registered and special delivery posts. It was so successful that the government bought it out and adopted the idea.

Feb. 1, 1899—The U. S. acquired another foreign possession. The Stars and Stripes were raised over Agana, Island of Guam, largest of the Ladrones of Marianas, in the South Pacific, which the Navy took over from Spain and converted into a cable, fueling and repair station.

Present population of your 30-mile long possession: 18,500, of which most are Malays and 1,100 are U. S. sailors.

Notable Nativities—Victor Herbert, b. 1859, American composer whose works are most frequently performed. . . . David Porter, b. 1780, first of a line of American naval heroes. . . . Clark Gable, b. 1901, cinemactor. . . . Feodor Chaliapin, b. 1873, world's top-ranking basso. . . . Sir William Wiseman, b. 1885, Kuhn Loeb & Co., partner who was wartime chief of British secret service in U. S. . . . Hattie W. Caraway, b. 1878, senator from Arkansas. . . . Charles Nordhoff, b. 1887, American dweller in Tahiti who co-authored Mutiny of the Bounty, Men Against the Sea and Pitcairn Island, classic modern trilogy.

You're Wrong If You Believe—That the Wisdom of Solomon has anything to do with King Solomon.

It was written in Greek by an Alexanderian Jew, and is no older than the first or second century. It was so highly esteemed by the Christian church that it came nearer to canonical acceptance than any other part of the Apocrypha.

That from the east came three wise men bearing gifts to the Christ Child.

"The Bible (Mat. 2.7) says the wise men, number unstated," it is pointed out by Charles Piper, McKeesport, Pa.

That dynamite "strikes down." It doesn't.

William L. Stiles, San Antonio, Tex., authority on explosives, writes us: "This popular belief comes from the fact that the effects of dynamite upon the air above and around the scene of the explosion aren't visible. Owing to its instantaneous action, it strikes with equal force in every direction. Gunpowder, being more gradual in its fulmination, pushes against the line of least resistance. Consequently, the two explosives have quite different fields of usefulness.

Correctly Speaking—

FEDERATION PARTIES CONTINUE NEXT WEEK

New Castle women have been kept on the go all this week, what with the President's ball, recitals, lectures, club meetings and afternoon parties. Thursday is always the most popular day of the week for these, yesterday being no exception, even with the Federation women who are having "round robin" affairs in their homes.

Among Thursday's hostesses was Mrs. A. P. Treser of Garfield avenue, who received a coterie of friends at contract bridge, in the interests of the organization which she leads as president. The card diversion was a pleasure with Mrs. John Whitten winning the favor. Tea was served from a daintily appointed table centered with flowers.

At Mrs. H. N. Drio's tea on Tuesday for Wimodausis representation, two tables of contract were likewise in play. Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad presided at the tea table when refreshments were served, the appointments being carried out in yellow and green tones, against a background of a beautiful lace cover.

Among other hostesses who will receive informal groups next week are Mrs. Lafayette Royston of Clenmore boulevard and Mrs. W. H. Shipler of Highland avenue, who will receive on Monday; Mrs. R. L. Boyd of North Jefferson street, Mrs. Charles Burckart of Clenmore boulevard and Mrs. C. S. Royce of East Lincoln avenue, who have chosen other afternoons.

Walmo Kensington.

The next meeting of the Walmo Kensington is scheduled for February 20 at the home of Mrs. F. E. Stitchberry at Walmo.

CAPACITY CROWD AT BINGO PARTY

In spite of the President's ball and other important social events in town Wednesday evening, there was a capacity crowd at the bingo party given by The Women's Aide society of the Pennsylvania R. R. in the club rooms at the freight house.

Many of the guests came from Youngstown and Sharon and the neighboring vicinities. Handsome prizes were given for the bingo winners preceding the serving of tasty refreshments. The committee handling the affair was headed by Mrs. B. E. Meyers and she was ably assisted by other members of her department.

Next Wednesday evening the local members will journey to Youngstown for a card party which that division will sponsor.

J. E. S. Club

The J. E. S. club members, were guests of Dorothy Watt, 810 Vogan avenue Thursday evening. A short business period was held, with Genevieve Neyman and Anna Vesla being taken in as new members. The former entertained with guitar selections, accompanied by Margaret McCracken, as a special feature.

Miss Dorothy Neyman was a special guest of the members.

Lunch was served at the chosen hour by the hostess, and they adjourned to meet in two weeks with Genevieve Neyman on Bradley avenue.

At Adams Home.

At the home of Mrs. Robert Adams on Fairmont avenue Thursday afternoon, Octova club members played cards at two tables. Mrs. Roy Samuels, one of the guests, and Mrs. Lewis Gunton won the trophies. A lovely Valentine appointed luncheon was served as a concluding feature.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Robert Dailey of Meyer avenue in a fortnight.

I. W. T. Club Gathers

An enjoyable meeting of the I. W. T. club members, was held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Harry Collingwood, Cascade boulevard, when she entertained at a 6 o'clock tureen dinner. After the serving, the hours were spent informally with chat and music. A short business period ensued.

Their next meeting will take place on February 14.

West Side Club.

Mrs. Frank Steckle of Ray street was a charming hostess Thursday evening to the West Side club. There were three tables of 500, at which the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Carm Fulkerson, Miss Mary Eagan and Mrs. Richard Hannon. A dainty refection was served.

The next meeting will be on February 14, the hostess to be announced.

G. W. C. Members.

Mrs. Emma Graham, Chestnut street, had as guests in her home Thursday afternoon, members of the G. W. C. club. Fancywork and chat whiled away the hours, and following, a dainty collation was served. Mrs. James Richards assisted the hostess.

In two weeks, Mrs. C. E. Patterson of Chestnut street will entertain.

Social Committee.

There will be an important meeting of the social service committee of the Business and Professional Women's club directly following the club meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening.

Sandwich Bridge

Mrs. Doris Sankey and her committee of New Castle Chapter 105, Order of Eastern Star, met this week and made preliminary plans for the sandwich bridge Monday evening, February 11, when the members and friends of the chapter will be entertained at the close of the chapter business session.

See Early Capture Of Pair Wanted In Bessemer Hold-Up

Indications are that the negress who drove the bandits car and her white companion who with Edward Scales alias Jack of Diamonds, colored, were foiled in their attempt to rob the state bank at Bessemer yesterday may soon be taken. Their identity has been established and haunts which they frequent were combed Thursday afternoon and night and the search was intensified today by Sheriff Edward Pritchard and state police.

After Scales was caught by Bessemer chief, Archie Shoup in the basement of the Bessemer Limestone & Cement company office the 32 automatic revolver which he threw away was found. He was locked in a cell at the Bessemer police station and was grilled by state police Corporal Schmidt, Troopers Engle, McCullough, Nevin and Sheriff Pritchard.

Telephonic communication established that the red car in which the negress and her white male companion had fled was a Chevrolet carrying Pennsylvania license number 2X815. The number was caught as it darted toward Hillsville. Furthur inquiry developed the car had been stolen several days ago from a garage at Ambridge. Scales said he had been living at Youngstown, Ohio.

As soon as this information was received, Corporal Schmidt said he would take over the search in Western Pennsylvania and Sheriff Pritchard with state policemen Engle, McCullough accompanied by a News police reporter went to Youngstown where detectives from that city gave the sheriff and state troopers valuable assistance.

They found where Scales had been staying "off and on." They found some of his clothing and information collected at this place sent them to Boardman street where Scales worked intermittently as a bartender. Hurried but thorough investigation established the identities of his companions.

Their haunts were combed and the search shifted to Sharon, Mercer, New Castle and Aliquippa. As the wanted pair are known by police in practically every town in Western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio it is believed by authorities that sooner or later they will be taken. They may "hole up" for a while but their capture is inevitable it has been indicated.

Cites Method To Cut School Costs

Rule Says Larger Unit Plan Would Cut Down Tuition

MANY DISTRICTS COULD BENEFIT

HARRISBURG, February 1—Because more than half of the school districts in Pennsylvania at present are unable to support high schools, or do not have enough pupils to warrent establishment of a high school, residents and school directors of the districts have no direct supervision of the instruction of their boys and girls whom they send to high school of neighboring districts.

This situation can be remedied through changing existing school laws to provide for larger units of school organization and administration, according to Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction. Such a step also would eliminate almost entirely the difficulties in payment of high school tuition now encountered by hundreds of rural school districts, he said. Several thousand rural boys and girls of high school age, at one time or another during the past three years, have been denied opportunity to attend secondary schools because overdue tuition payments could not be met by their home districts.

There are 1424 school districts in Pennsylvania which have no high schools. This represents 55 per cent of the total of 2582 school districts. In addition, there are 1536 districts that employ ten or fewer teachers. More than five hundred districts have fewer than one hundred pupils in daily attendance in their schools.

Merger of these small school districts into community or county units, taking in larger areas, would give greater opportunity for home rule in the offerings of the schools for the children of the entire area. Transportation routes could be simplified, and the difficulties of high school tuition could be eliminated, according to experiences in other states where the larger unit plan has been placed in operation. Such reorganization also would provide for economical and efficient tax collection, school administration, budgetary control, planning and maintenance of school plants, and purchase of textbooks, supplies and equipment.

Celebrating Her 90th Birthday

Almira Home Resident Reaches Notable Milestone In Life Today

The cheerful lady who has lived at Almira home the longest of any of its elderly residents is 90 years of age today.

The day was to be a quiet one for Miss Ellen Henderson even though it did bring to a close another score of years she has added to the scriptural three score and ten. In the best of health, Miss Henderson is spending the day in her room.

"Her greatest joy today, as on other days," close friends of Miss Henderson reported today, "will probably be reading The News. She looks forward to the paper each afternoon."

Miss Henderson is not the oldest resident at the home but she has lived there longer than any other lady.

Throughout Lawrence county she has a host of friends who will be silently wishing her "happy birthday" as they read of her birthday today.

Miss Henderson was born in West township, Butler county, the daughter of Joseph Henderson and Margaret Grees.

Randolph Churchill

A youngster of 23 has found himself the center of what promises to be Great Britain's warmest political battle of the year. He is Randolph Churchill, 23-year-old son of Winston Churchill, head of the Independent Conservative group, who is standing for parliament in a by-election at Wavertree, Lancashire. Young Churchill has powerful backing, including his father's, but he will be opposed by a National Conservative who will be backed by the report of the government's India committee recommending unification of the Indian states.

Suggests Paving Greenwood Avenue

Says Thoroughfare Should Be Improved, Leads To Sacred Spot

W. W. Wall appeared before members of city council this morning at their session in the municipal building and suggested that while RWD labor is available that Greenwood avenue between the cemetery and West Washington street be paved.

He said the thoroughfare at many times is very dirty.

Wall said paving would provide a good route to one of the sacred spots in the city.

Councilman Davies remarked that paving of the avenue would be a matter for the residents of the street to decide.

Mr. Wall next told of expectoration on the sidewalk at the entrance and along the Y. M. C. A. building.

He said that he cleans the sidewalk nightly and further, said that papers from the bus terminal litter the street.

Mr. Wall asked council to have some kind of a paper receptacle placed there.

Councilman Alexander indicated this would be done.

CLAIMS RECORD WITH MITTENS, 54-YEARS-OLD

(International News Service)

CALDWELL, Kan.—An "old-mitten war" seems to be brewing in Kansas.

Reese Alexander of Independence on a recent occasion puffed out his chest and remarked right proudly as he extended his wool-encased hands. "Gents, I have a-wearing these here mittens for nigh onto 42 winters."

"Pooh, pooh" says W. A. Thompson, retired railroad engineer, "My mittens are 54 years old. I was 19 years old when my mother knitted them for me."

Other precincts are unreported but are expected to be heard from momentarily.

Forest fires recently have been threatening many villages in Japan, and much valuable timber was destroyed.

Controller Asks Phone Check Here

Wants City Council To Designate Someone To Check Phones, Equipment

City Controller Earl Wimer today formally requested council to designate someone to conduct a check of the various services rendered by the Bell Telephone company to the city, including all telephones, hand sets, extensions and signals.

Wimer wrote councilmen that he had received from the company an itemized list of such and he had personally noted one instance where the city is being charged for a service discontinued in the City building.

The controller wrote he did not believe the company wants to overcharge the city but feels that there may be other similar instances and the change in service has not been noted.

Councilman Alexander presented a motion authorizing the return of the latter to the controller so that it could be sent to the head of the department having control of telephone service. No vote was taken.

Councilman Davies in whose department telephones belong offered a motion to file the latter. On the roll call, Alexander and Mayor Mayne voted negatively. As Councilman Butler was absent the motion was deadlocked.

Hibernating Bears' Naps Broken Up

(International News Service)

SEWARD, Alaska, Feb. 1.—A prolonged rainstorm which caused numerous snowslides while creating roaring torrents of small streams, at the same time leaving all but the highest mountain peaks bare of snow, is forcing hybernating bears to break their long winter's naps to get out and find a "better hole."

Bears, which ordinarily den up early in November, have been seen scurrying about the rough peaks.

Moose, which ordinarily repair to the valleys in midwinter, cling to the high slopes, and mink, lynx and other fur-bearers are notable for their absence along the streams, each variety clinging to the highlands.

LEGAL GAMBLING IS MONTANA PLAN

(International News Service)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., —Legalized gambling as a means of raising money for relief purposes in Wyoming, is proposed in a bill introduced by Rep. John A. Barker, of Casper in the legislature. His bill calls for collection of 1 per cent of gross returns from slot machines, punchboards and lotteries, and would also include licensed card and dice games.

Grief Of Queen Of Slain Ruler Still Unchecked

(International News Service)

BELGRADE, Feb. 1.—Queen Marie of Jugoslavia is still in deep mourning for her husband, King Alexander, murdered at Marseilles Oct. 9.

Every day, early in the morning, she drives to the mausoleum at Oplenac, and spends hours alone praying and weeping.

Since her husband's death Queen Marie lost 23 pounds in weight, intimates report.

However, she tries to hide her grief from young King Peter, who has resumed his studies, especially of foreign languages.

A new building has been erected in the park of Dedinje, to serve exclusively as the young King's residence. He hasn't been seen in Belgrade since his father's funeral.

He has a fatherly way in dealing with his younger brother. He orders his brother Tomislav to behave properly and be less noisy. Tomislav has a hot temper and is not easily handled by his instructors.

Tomislav is now seven and goes to elementary school. He talks Serbian, English and French.

The three royal boys have little ponies and ride daily in the beautiful gardens of Dedinje castle.

The boys especially like winter sports for which they have fine opportunity at Bled castle where the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina are expected sometime this winter. Peter is especially fond of athletics.

A movement to substitute male for female and child labor has been started in Italy.

Continue Hunt For Source Of Poison Liquor

Federal Agents Begin Extensive Search In New York State For Illicit Booze

(International News Service)

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Col. L. G. Nutt and his federal agents continued their search here today for the ringleaders in the poison liquor racket which has caused 31 deaths in Utica and Gloversville.

No new deaths were reported today, but 11 were still in hospitals in the two cities and several valley residents were under arrest.

Two "cleaning plants" have been found here, and these are believed to be the places where rubbing alcohol was re-distilled into beverages. The persons responsible for the distribution are known, the federal men announced.

Ten men and three women were under arrest in Buffalo in connection with liquor raids there. Three have been nabbed in Little Falls and 12 arrested here.

Strive To Save Air Mail Lines

Declare Some Of Major Air Mail Lines Are Facing Bankruptcy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—With the report of the federal aviation commission now before congress, a drive was opened today for legislation to prevent a threatened collapse of air mail lines.

Declaring that some of the major lines are facing bankruptcy, Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada intends to push a bill giving a commission power to raise rates. He said the commission's report is along the lines of a bill he introduced recently and early action is necessary to permit some agency to raise rates of contractors now operating at a loss.

Sofe of the major air lines of the country will go out of business unless action is taken," McCarran asserted.

Many Officers Soon On Scene Of Bank Hold-up

Pennsylvania And Ohio Officers In Large Numbers Rush To Bessemer

There was no delay by state and city police, Sheriff Pritchard and constables in reaching the bank at Bessemer where an attempted hold-up occurred and following which one man, Edward Scales, alias "Jack of Diamonds" was captured by Bessemer's chief of police Archie Shoup, yesterday.

The attempted hold-up occurred about 12:15 p. m. and by 12:35 p. m. state policemen Engle and McCullough with Constables O'Brien and Fair were at the bank. Sheriff Eddie Pritchard drove in also from New Castle and Corporal Schmidt and troopers Checkiloski and Nevin arrived from New Brighton about 12:45 p. m.

As soon as chief of police Shoup had locked Scales in the town jail the state police questioned the negro, established his identity, connections and the grim hunt for a negress, driver of the bandit car and her white companion started. Various cities and towns in western Pennsylvania were asked to watch for them.

In the meantime a cruiser car filled with Youngstown detectives had arrived, learned who had been captured and returned to Youngstown in the hope of picking up Scales companions who deserted him after cashier Charles Weltz and assistant cashier V. I. Mandish had foiled the robbers evidently out on their first bank job.

Cross-Examine Woman Today In Shepard Trial

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 1—Defense attorneys were ready today to cross-examine Miss Grace Lee Brandon, 27, whose testimony of a romance seven years ago with Major Charles A. Shepard was given at the ex-officers' federal court trial for the murder of his second wife, Zenana.

Mrs. Shepard, who died from poisoning June 15, 1929, was killed, the government contends, so Major Shepard could marry the blonde army stenographer from Brooks Field, Tex.

Faulty Brakes Are Blamed In 35 Auto Deaths

Defective Steering Apparatus Also To Blame For Accidents

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Defective brakes, one of the major mechanical hazards at which compulsory motor vehicle inspections are directed, claimed at least 35 lives in Pennsylvania last year.

The department of revenue's division of safety received reports of 1756 accidents caused by inefficient or poorly adjusted braking equipment. Of these, 35 were fatal accidents, 1036 resulted in non-fatal injuries and 685 caused property damage only.

Similarly, defective steering apparatus caused 552 accidents, of which 18 were fatal and 328 resulted in non-fatal injuries.

Commenting on these figures, the division said:

"Under modern traffic conditions, motorists are practically inviting accidents when they drive cars which are not mechanically sound. The average driver's tendency to take chances is, in itself, sufficient to wreck thousands of cars and make the highways unsafe. Defective equipment aggravates an already critical situation.

"Through the current inspection campaign the commonwealth expects to reduce mechanical defects as a factor in 1935 accidents. Owners have until March 31 to obtain official stickers and comply with the letter of the law. They can conform to the spirit of the law more closely by putting their cars in perfect running condition immediately. Early inspections pay dividends in safety."

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Creomulsion may be a better help than you need. It combines seven helps in one. It is made for quick relief, for safety.

Mild coughs often yield to lesser helps. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Creomulsion for any cough that starts. The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist is authorized to guarantee it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are danger signals. For safetys sake, deal with them in the best way known. (adv.)

LIQUOR SITUATION

Slippery Rock, Pa.
Rural Route, No. 3.
Jan. 31, 1935.

Editor News:

Some time ago a correspondent quoted two Bible verses commending the use of wine. I wish to quote some which condemn wine—"Wine is the poison of dragons and the cruel venom of asps."—Deut. 32:33. "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." —Prov. 23:31,32. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." —Prov. 20:1.

C. S. Tanner says, "Six different words are used when speaking of the products of the wine. Our English word "wine" and the Greek "oinos" are used for both the fermented and the unfermented juices. The wine that is commended is the unfermented juice, the wine that is condemned is the fermented (alcoholic) juice. The Hebrew words most generally used were "yayinand "tirosh." It is "yayin" that is a mocker; "yayin" that made Lot drunk; it was "yayin" which Daniel refused. It was "yayin" to which Solomon gave himself with the ultimate conclusion that it was folly. "Tirosh" ranks next to "yayin" in the number of times it is used in the Bible. It is the term used specifically of the fresh grape juice. It was "tirosh" with which God was to reward Israel, along with the flocks and herds. (Deut. 7:12-15). It was "tirosh" in sacrificial use that cheereth God and man. About 30 times in the Scriptures wine is definitely praised and in every case except one "tirosh" is used—in that one case an equivalent is used. Nowhere does "tirosh" appear where wine is condemned. The wine, "tirosh," that is praised is not the same substances as the wine "yayin," that is condemned." This explanation may dispel some confusion that is caused by our generic word, wine.

From another writer, G. W. Samson, I quote the following: "There is but one plain allusion in the Old Testament to wine used as a medicine (Prov. 31:6), and this is in perfect accord with the laws of the priests of Egypt and of India, with both of which Solomon had commerce; intoxicating wine being used only to produce stupefaction and rest to the nerves in acute pain, and as an anaesthetic in surgical operations when deadness to sensibility was necessary." In 1884 John B. Finch said, "Fermented wine cannot be said to be a good creature of God anymore than the pistol or bowie knife."

We are certainly learning anew that the alcohol found in beer, wine, etc., today is as harmful as the alcohol found in the drinks of Bible times—that it is a poison, a habit forming drug. Scientists now tell us it is a depressant, not a stimulant as was once supposed. Since repeal most of us have not, as yet, witnessed the poverty caused by drink, but the effect most noticeable seems to be the increased number of accidents caused by intoxicated (not drunken) drivers and pedestrians. Official figures show the following respective increases in drunken driver arrests since repeal:

New York 25 per cent, Massachusetts 37 per cent, Philadelphia 300 per cent, District of Columbia 42 per cent, Rhode Island 100 per cent, Pennsylvania 77 per cent, New Jersey 37 per cent, Cincinnati 380 per cent, North Carolina 26 per cent, New Orleans 122 per cent, Los Angeles 479 per cent, New Hampshire 43 per cent.

"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken also."—Hab. 2:15.

"Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying." —Rom. 13:13.

To me it seems total abstinence for the individual is the only safe course and prohibition for the nation is the best method yet tried.

Respectfully,
(Miss) MARGARET PEEBLES,
Scott Township.

AS CHICAGO SEES IT

Editor, News:

Chicago finds the results of repeal not all that was promised.

The Chicago Daily News, one of the many Chicago papers that believed repeal of the 18th Amendment would be an improvement, shows serious disappointment and great disillusionment.

We quote from an editorial of the issue of January 4. Owing to the high regard in which the Chicago Daily News is held, the statements of the editor may be taken as facts. Speaking of the recent conference of Governor Horner with the Illinois State Liquor Commission, the article points out the conditions in the governor's home town, which may well cause him concern:

"In Chicago the pledges of his party have been torn into shreds. The emphatic exhortations of the president, the solemn promises of the governor have been made a jest.'

"The saloon is back in a form more infamously evil than ever before. It is again the ally of vice and corrupt politics.

"It is violating every regulation made for its behavior.

"It is dispensing bootleg liquor.

"It is selling at unlawful hours.

"It is selling to minors.

"It is promoting gambling.

"It is harboring criminals and prostitutes.

"There are 14,710 persons, firms, and corporations licensed by the federal government to retail liquor in Chicago. Of that number 6,815 have no city license. Why?

"Dr. John Haynes Holmes, in his New Year's review, said:

"Repeal has released a flood of liquor beyond anything known in the last decade. Drunken driving has become a momentous problem. Bootlegging is with us in undiminished abundance. Lawlessness and crime are as rampant as ever.'

MARGARET S. WALKER,
Maple Lane, Pulaski.

CHEAP POWER

January 31, 1935.

The News Co.
New Castle, Penn.
Gentlemen:

The importance of "cheap" electricity to the people of New Castle and vicinity is far greater than most people realize. Our industrial structure is such that whether or not we have low cost electrical power means whether or not we enjoy any measure of prosperity over the next decade or two.

Arthur Brisbane one of the most widely known and keenest observers of our times says:

"PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT praising workers in the Tennessee Valley for their efficiency made one of the most important speeches that he, or any other president or ruler of a country, ever made.

He promises CHEAP POWER. Not all the plans to drive away depression could do one-tenth as much as really cheap power for all.

NATURE gave man free air and free water, not much else free. If science and wise government can add to free air and free water POWER UNLIMITED as nearly free as possible that will mean another step toward the desired millennium.

Cheap power for farms, factories, and homes; cheap power giving light necessary to study; power that means conquest of nature and her hardships, will free men from slavery."

(From New Castle News, Nov. 21, 1934:)

If New Castle must continue to pay its comparitively high electric rate, it means that we will not only keep out most industries that would like to locate here, but we are in danger of losing the industries that we have.

A chemical concern, that has recently acquired a factory in New Castle, contemplated enlarging their plant several times, to make a mica heat insulation, but on finding out the power bill, under our local rates, would be just twice as much as under their present location, where they have a municipal distribution system—they had to abandon the idea.

We believe that CHEAP POWER is the best answer to growth and prosperity for New Castle.

Very truly yours,
ELECTRICAL CONSUMERS LEAGUE,
Walter S. Reynolds, President.

The example of those in the high places of life are the example set for the masses.

Court Of Honor Held By Scouts

Awards Are Presented To County Scouts Who Have Advanced In Their Work

DR. G. S. BENNETT ACTS AS CHAIRMAN

Another well-attended court of honor was held last night at the First Christian church with Dr. G. S. Bennett, first council vice president, sitting as chairman for Rev. A. M. Stump: and being assisted by Messrs. Ralph Davis, Harry Miles, Chauncey Schaller, Charles Billotte and Earl Ruby, with the executive as secretary. One scout who came for first class award was present in spite of illness.

The list of advancements is given herewith.

From tenderfoot to second class rank: Ware Pfeiffer, troop 3: Donald Moore, troop V-5: Harry Boron troop 9: also Frank Gierlach, Emmett Latimer and Carl Standish: Jim Johnson of troop V-15: Howard Dinsmore, Charles Hayes and Robert A. Shaffer of New Wilmington V-1 and James Rucker of New Castle V-37.

From second class to first class scout rank: Francis Brookman and Phillip W. Reed, troop 4: Bill Batten, troop V-18 and John J. Francis, John Galbreath, Robert Newton, and Rusell Williamson all of New Wilmington V-1.

Leaders Honored

Leaders who appeared for merit badges included A. L. Howard, horsemanship, camp ranger Robert Allen, swimming, C. W. Schaller, cooking: with Dr. Bennett commentingon the badges won. First class badges in merit badge requirements were earned by Philard McClure, James Emerick, Lester Raub, Tom Bailey, Don Woodworth, Chauncey Schaller, Jr., Edward Freeman, Bob Green, John Clark, Riley Patton, Kermit Patton, Paul Means, David Taylor, Bob Cole, Hunt Davis, John Clarke, Robert Walter and Albert Moss: an unusually large number of firemanship merit badges being earned. Dr. Bennett remarked that it would be easy to get help in a local fire if these boys were on hand.

Second class scouts also qualified for a number of badges in their line: William Evans, Owen Evans, Richard Gilmore, Richard Gardner, Bill Batten, James Walters, Phillip Reese, Oliver Kerr and Wayne Bvan making advancements.

Eagle Palm Joe Ferris of New Wilmington V-1 was on hand for three more merit badges, with Eagle Palm Hans Holm witnessing the event from the rear of the room. Hans was joshed by some of the scouters about not having appeared at a court for some time; but a person working his way through college doesn't have much spare time at that .

The high award—or rather application for award came from Bob Cole of New Castle V-37: who appeared for nomination to the National Court of Honor for Eagle Rank. Cole has been a real scout and his brother scouters congratulated him on his application. It is expected that this will be awarded at the February court.

The board of review called attention to the fact that some scouts appear for board of review without having their second or first class test cards, fully signed and filled out. The board has to return these until all signatures are given: and leaders were asked to note this.

The conditions regarding the National Jamboree were mentioned:—that each troop should get in its Jamboree fee (for its candidate) by April 1. From April 1 to May 1 the council may fill in its quota with other applicants who can get the Jamboree fee and can qualify. From May 1 to July 1 the Regional office will fill in unusued quotas of councils, from its Regional list of applicants: so it is very necessary that each troop should get to work on earning the Jamboree fee for its troop representative.

The New Castle district court of honor for February will probably be held on Thursday evening the 28th with board of review a few days before that time, it was announced last night.

Test Suit Will Be Put On File

Attorney General Margiotti Will Test Constitutional Convention Bill

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Regardless of amendments the senate may make in the administration's constitutional convention bill, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti plans a friendly taxpayers' suit in the supreme court to test its constitutionality.

Margiotti said today he had visited the high court in its chambers and asked it to take original jurisdiction in the suit, hold a special meeting and return a quick verdict. He said that while the court gave no formal opinion he was convinced it would be willing to accept the case at a special meeting.

May Find Defects

The court recesses this week until March 25, too late to obtain an opinion on the bill before the proposed special election May 14 to name delegates to the convention. If a decision is handed down at a special meeting of the court the legislature can be asked to correct any defects the court finds.

Opinion is divided upon the question of whether the legislature can call a constitutional convention without first holding a referendum, not provided for in the administration bill which has passed the house and is to be up for public hearings in the senate next week.

Believes He Had Disputed Shoe Box

New York Radio Shop Owner Says He Kept Small Box For Fisch

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Samuel Streppone, 37, radio shop owner, added himself to the list of Hauptmann "alibi witnesses" today with the declaration that Isidor Fisch had given into his keeping, for a few hours, a shoe box which Streppone believes contained Lindbergh ransom money.

Accompanied by "a fat man," Streppone claimed, the consumptive-looking Fisch came into his shop on May 20, 1933, and pulled out a roll of $10 gold notes to make a payment of $3 for having his radio repaired.

"I was suspicious of the money," averred Streppone. "Gold had been recalled in March. But when I started to send one of the children out to change one of the bills Fisch said he would bring in the change the next day.

"Three days later he came back carrying a box about the size of a shoe box, wrapped in heavy paper and tied with heavy twine. It was about 2 p. m. He asked me to keep the box until he returned at night. I took it. It didn't weigh much. I believe the ransom money was in it. Fisch came back at 10 p. m., and took it away."

Desertion Charged In Divorce Case

Julia Schaefer has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from Othmar H. Schaefer on the grounds of desertion. At the time of her marriage to Schaefer in May, 1926, Mrs. Schaefer was a resident of St. Cloud, Minn. Afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer moved to Minneapolis, Minn., where they resided until August, 1931, when Schaefer is alleged to have left. Mrs. Schaefer came to the home of a sister in New Castle in October, 1931, and has since been a resident of this city. The whereabouts of Schaefer is unknown, but his last address was in Minneapolis.

Mass Meeting Of FHA Is Planned

Citizens Of Mt. Jackson Community Will Hear Provisions Of FHA

EDWIN O. REED TO BE CHAIRMAN

Sponsored by Edwin O. Reed, a member of the Federal Housing Administration Board for Lawrence county, a mass meeting of citizens of the Mt. Jackson community has been arranged for Monday evening, when the program of the better housing committee, under the FHA will be explained. The meeting will take place in the auditorium of the Mt. Jackson school at 8 o'clock.

County Director Marcus Feuchtwanger will speak, and the Visomatic machine will be used in outlining the complete program and accomplishments of the Federal Housing Administration.

Invitations have been extended to all residents of Mt. Jackson, Bessemer and the districts surrounding these two communities.

Work on the survey to be conducted in this district is expected to get under way next week, when a group of trained investigators will take the field.

Director Feuchtwanger is hopeful that the citizens of the rural district will receive these investigators just as cordially as the citizens of New Castle have, and will cooperate with them in determining the need for home improvements.

Earle Is Adopting Roosevelt Strategy

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Gov. George H. Earle has lifted another page from the political strategy of President Roosevelt, the father of "New Dealers"...This is the practice of finding out and publicizing any insinuations of unsavory incidents before his political opponents find out about them and get credit for revealing them to the public.

The policy was given a workout on the Logue-Waters-liquor board incident...The story was a "dud" as far as developing any wrong doing was concerned...But it gave the administration a chance to jump at a charge against a member within its own ranks, and run it down to the ground amid the full fanfare of publicity.

Governor Earle adopted another from the book of President Roosevelt even earlier in his administration, that of making pithy and frequent addresses before the legislature, confined to one subject...This gives wider publicity to the administration program, and leaves the legislature with only one thing before it at a time to minimize stalling.

The first test vote of party strength in the senate showed no defections from the ranks of either Republicans or Democrats...It was the vote on Senator Clarence J. Buckman's motion to send the resolution with birthday greeting to President Roosevelt to committee for deletion of phrases the G. O. P. didn't like... The 19 Democrats voted solidly against...All 29 Republicans present voted in unison, in favor.

The United States senate's vote on the world court issue saved house Democrats from having to face squarely their own mistake and go on record on the subject...By mistake, Rep. Clinton A. Sowers' resolution memorializing the U. S. against the court was reported to the floor by a Democratic-controlled committee...Sowers called the resolution up for a vote, even though the senate had rejected court adherence in Washington...There was no objection, however, when Democrats moved to send the resolution to the rules committee...Even Republicans wouldn't oppose the move ....They were peeved at Sowers for calling his resolution up.

Shades of One-Eyed Connolly... Auditor General Frank E. Baldwin "crashed" the receiving line in the senate when proceedings were delayed long enough for senators to line up and shake hands with former Lieut. Gov. Edward C. Shannon after he had been presented with a silver service set....The senators walked past General and Mrs. Shannon in single file...Baldwin got in line with them and went through the line like the rest...Maybe it was a lapse of memory...Baldwin was a senator for many years, serving until 1932.

Two years ago, Rep. John E. Brown, Washington county Democrat, fought the Republican controlled legislature at that time to conduct its various committee meetings under the "open door" policy ....Now he is chairman of a committee and has lived up to his convictions...As head of the house judiciary local committee he called a meeting of the committee members and the doors were wide open to visitors while members deliberated. ..."I can see no reason for closing the doors so long as visitors come in, sit down and remain quiet," he said.

During hard times so many weak-kneed ones get scared and drop out that there really isn't much more competition than before for those who keep on plugging.

Housing Project Will Be Pushed At Meadville, Pa.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Preliminary approval of a low-cost housing project at Meadville, Pa., to accommodate 200 families, was announced today by the Federal Housing administration. Sponsors of the project, headed by H. E. Fabel, general chairman, submitted plans calling for an expenditure of $900,000 on 200 detached and semi-detached, 4 and 6 room residences, to rent at $26 to $40 a month. If final approval is given, the Housing administration may insure mortgages on the property up to 80 percent of the value.

Drivers Must Fill Out Own Permit Forms

Applicants Must Answer Questions Correctly Regarding Record

CAN BE SUSPENDED FOR LONG PERIOD

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—The Bureau of Motor Vehicles today advised motorists to follow the safe and sure way of getting 1935 operators' licenses by filling out their own applications.

"Permitting a friend or agent to fill out an application may unwittingly result in a two-years' suspension of driving privileges," the bureau said.

"The Financial Responsibility Act requires that every applicant for a license must answer correctly several questions regarding his accident record. The answers are subject to check against the records maintained by the Division of Safety.

"Those who delegate another person to apply for their licenses and to fill out the application form, take an unnecessary chance that the agent may give incorrect answers.

"Since each application bears the signature of the applicant, the latter is accountable for the statements made and is liable to the penalty—two years' suspension of operating privilege—for misstatements. The fact that someone else made the mistake while doing what the operator is required to do for himself would not eliminate the danger of incurring the penalty.

"No operator should be willing to take this risk merely because it may be more convenient or a little faster to have someone else get his license for him.

County commissioners report that the state line road, an RWD project in which the county is interested, is fast nearing completion. The base of the road is being filled with brickbats from the Bessemer plants and with stone, after which it is rolled with a 13-ton roller. A top dressing of limestone is to be applied. The county is providing the material jointly with Mahoning county, O.

H. C Camperman of Ellwood City secured a license at the county treasurer's office yesterday for an Airdale dog, 19 years old. This is the oldest dog so far reported in Lawrence county Up until yesterday the record was held by Richard E. Friend of near Volant, who secured a license for a hound dog 18 years old. Dog owners say that 19 years is a remarkable age for a dog, although there are records of dogs having lived considerably longer. Usually dogs are considered old at 12 or 13 years.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna has received a letter from Mrs. Mary Kehn of Detroit, Michigan, who is trying to find her mother from whom she was separated in infancy, and who is believed to have lived in New Castle. This is according to the records of St. Anthony's orphanage in Toledo, O., which would seem to indicate that Mrs. Kehn was born in New Castle, and was afterwards placed in the orphanage. Mrs. Kehn says that her mother's name was Anatasia Bojko, or Boyki, she is uncertain which. As far as she can learn her mother lived in New Castle around 1915. She may still be living here. Mrs. Kehn is very anxious to hear from here or from any person who knew her or can give any information regarding her. Any person having such information should communicate with Mr. Hanna at the register and recorder's office.

Account of L. E. Shaffer, executor in the estate of the late C. W. Rodawalt, has been confirmed by Judge Hildebrand and distribution ordered. The account shows total assets of $1,366.17 and total credits of $1,090.22, leaving a balance of $276.-55, which is directed to be paid to W. R. Campbell, funeral director.

In an opinion handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand, a decree in divorce was refused Pemala Williams from Richard L. Williams. The application was made on the grounds of desertion. The couple were married in December, 1916, and had three children. The court finds the circumstances somewhat unusual in a desertion case. Around 1930 the couple were living at Gardner, and Mrs. Williams was supporting the family, through some rents which she received and her own labor. Williams, it seems, was contributing nothing. In 1930, owing to economic conditions, Mrs. Williams' income fell off and the expense of getting to the city and back from work, was considerable. She decided to move into the city in order that she might be nearer her work. Williams refused to accompany her but took up his residence in a "shack" back of the Gardner property. He came in occasionally to see the childdren and get some food, but allegedly did nothing to provide for the family. In his opinion Judge Hildebrand says that while he sympathizes with Mrs. Williams, the circumstances are not such as would warrant the granting of a divorce on the grounds of desertion, since she simply moved and her husband would not accompany her. The decree is therefore refused.

Local milk producers have secured the court house for a meeting to be held on Tuesday evening February 5, with the object in view of joining the western Pennsylvania organization which is now being perfected in sixteen counties. John A. Creighton of Findleyville, Pa., president will be present and explain the object and aims of the organization. Local milk producers formed an organization last year for the county. The present plan is much wider in scope and will embrace plans to get legislation favorable to the milk producers.

U. S. - RUSSIAN DEBT NEGOTIATIONS AT END

No Settlement Can Be Secured

Moscow Wants Loan Of $2 For Every Dollar Paid To United States

UNITED STATES NOT FOR SUCH PROGRAM

By KINGSBURG SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Newly established American-Russian relations were seriously impaired today by the collapse of negotiations for settlement of the American debt and damage claims against the communist regime.

Determined that not one penny of Uncle Sam's money will be used to finance trade wtih Soviet Russia so long as Moscow refuses to agree to a just settlement, the state department plans to seek dissolution of the federal export-import bank for Russia.

To Propose Dissolution.

Assistant Secretary of State R. Walton Moore, chairman of the bank, will propose its dissolution at a meeting of the board of directors to be held shortly.

The bank was formed with $11,000,000 capital to help finance the development of trade with the Soviets. Its functioning, however, was contingent upon a settlement of the debt issue.

Collapse of the negotiations was due to Moscow's persistent efforts to induce this government to loan it $2 for every $1 it agreed to pay back on the debt and damage claims. Moscow wanted an outright 20-year cash loan of $100,000,000 and the promise of another $100,000,000 in credits from the export-import bank in return for its willingness to pay $100,000,000 on the American claims, which total between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000.

No Cash Loan.

The United States was prepared to reduce its claims to as low as $150,000,000 and grant Soviet Russia revolving short term credits but no cash loan. Moscow's rejection of this proposal prompted Secretary of State Cordell Hull to issue a formal statement declaring:

"In view of the present attitude of the Soviet government, I feel we cannot encourage the hope that any agreement is now possible. There seems to be scarcely any reason to doubt that the negotiations which seemed so promising at the start must now be regarded as having come to an end."

The department's attitude in the debt issue will remain deadlocked until Moscow presnts a more reasonable proposal.

Today

Prajadhipok, And Mahidol.

Japan, Manchu - Mongol Trouble.

To Certify Liquor.

A Super Commission.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

KING PRAJADHIPOK, of Siam, is in England, threatening to resign. His subjects in return threaten to take the king's nephew, eleven years old, Prince Ananda Mahidol, and make him king.

This may worry England, should young Ananda prove to be a plaything of Japan.

Japan wants a canal through the Malayan Isthmus, which would reduce by one thousand miles in length an important Japanese sea route and incidentally, make expensive British fortifications of Singapore practically useless.

If Siam gave its consent the canal would be dug and it would be a useful canal.

A JAPANESE news agency reports a Japanese-Manchukuoan victory over Chinese troops on the Manchu-Mongol border. Where Japanese troops march, planes fly above them and ahead of them. That helps.

One report says that Japanese in that engagement captured and took possession of a Russian Soviet town. If so, Mr. Stalin might want to "make something out of it."

NEW YORK STATE is considering "certification of pure liquor," by way of discouraging bootleg liquor poisoning. Legislators were told of "more than thirty bootleg liquor deaths in Utica and Gloversville alone."

In Paris, any citizen who sends a bottle of wine or liquor to the municipal laboratory is told, if there is anything wrong, and authorities do something about it.

New York State plans to charge for the "certification," and make money. A citizen who buys wine or liquor should buy an established BRAND and buy from a merchant whom he trusts.

MR. EASTMAN, "federal coordinator of transportation," suggests a "super-agency" like the Interstate Commerce Commision to control every form of transportation, railroads, airships, motor trucks, motor omnibuses. Everything would be "regulated" and "controlled."

Wise regulation and control might be desirable. But who will guarantee the wisdom. Such control as it suggested exists in Russia, under Stalin; in Italy under Mussolini, and doubtless will exist under Hitler as his dictatorship gains momentum.

DO WE need such an arrangement here? Private initiative, inventive genius, competition still plays an important part in all transportation, railroads, perhaps, excepted.

In late years they have relied on monopoly of territory, rather than on new methods.

You interfere with something when you say to citizens "the government will do your thinking," and that something may be important.

FRIENDS of Mrs. Coolidge deny that she is contemplating remarriage. The widow of Grover Cleveland married again, but it must be difficult for a widow to give up the name of a President of the United States.

TENNESSEE'S Legislature votes, 72 to 24, against the child labor amendment.

Many are convinced that not to let a young man work before he is 18 years old deprives him of his best chance. They tell you that Edison, Ford and many others got their start at about 15. A boy of 17 or 18 is not generally considered a "child."

THE HAUPTMANN case develops new interest in the earnest testimony of the accused man's wife, and evidence given by Elbert Carlstrom, a carpenter, who swears that on the night of the kidnaping he saw Hauptmann and his wife in a Bronx restaurant bakery at 8:30 o'clock.

It is the bakery in which Hauptmann's wife was employed. This and the determined character of Hauptmann's testimony have caused many to waver in their certainty as to his guilt.

NEW YORK'S Metropolitan Opera says it must have help from the city to survive. Foreign singers say they do not like being paid in dollars that once they liked well enough. Now a dollar buys fewer francs, or lire, than it used to.

Important foreign cities subsidize grand opera and other forms of art as a matter of course.

Mayor LaGuardia, of New York, thinks he might do something for the Metropolitan Opera House if the owners would let him use it for "music at popular prices" during the long months of opera vacation.

AN AMERICAN, arrested in Japan for taking photographs of the Nagasaki Harbor, Japanese naval base, might sell his photographs to Japan or some other country, but not to this country.

Here we know that every other nation loves us, nobody would dream of hurting us, and if we will only continue, entirely unprepared, in the air especially, nobody would have the heart to strike a blow at us. P. S. That is sarcasm.

SENATOR THOMAS, of Oklahoma, tells the Senate that the Supreme Court will "sustain the legality of gold clause contracts," and "We may have to prepare new legislation." Many plans will be upset if that gold clause is upheld.

Will those that have signed obligations, leases, mortgages, bonds, containing a gold clause, be compelled to pay in gold at $35 an ounce?

The gold clause usually says "of the present weight and fineness."

Police Sergeant And Watchman Meet Death, Twelve Injured In Brooklyn Blast

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—George Nadler, police sergeant, and Michael Delaney, watchman, were killed and twelve other persons, including two explosions caused by a gas main leak.

Delaney was employed in the furniture store where the explosions occurred. He was killed by gas fumes from a broken main before the blasts rocked the building.

BODY OF MAN IS FROZEN IN ICE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Authorities today endeavored to identify a man whose body was found frozen in a cake of ice on the banks of the Ohio river near Glenwillard.

A peculiarly designed belt buckle was the only possible mark of identification found on the body, authorities said.

Sciatica

To ease the soreness in a hurry—Massage powerful penetrating Emerald Oil into your limb, following the course of the pain from your hip all the way down your thigh and calf, right to your very toes.

And rub it into your back, where the sciatic nerve joins the base of the spine.

Just one minute's rubbing. The penetrating warmth brings soothing comforting relief to the throbbing, painful nerves and soothes them and quickly too.

Money back, says Eckerd's Drug Store, New Castle Drug Co., if Emerald Oil fails to bring you ease and comfort.

HIGH HUMIDITY GOES WITH HEAVY LAYING

A flock of 100 hens often will not drink more than two gallons of water a day when they are in a heavy molt, but the same flock may consume 4 to 5 gallons a day when laying heavily.

During hot weather these same hens may drink as much as seven gallons a day. The water consumed is used partly in the water content of the egg product 100 hens with 60 per cent production will put approximately five pounds a day into the eggs. The other 35 pounds of water is largely thrown off as waste vapor in the air that the hens exhale from their lungs. For this reason, high-producing birds exhale much more vapor, and poultry houses are more likely to get damp during periods of high production.

The excess moisture which chickens exhale is carried out of the poultry house with the air. It is necessary, therefore, to have more frequent changes of air or more ventilation during periods of high production.

Air doubles in its moisture-carrying capacity with every temperature increase of 17 degrees Fahrenheit. A cubic foot of air at 47°F. has approximately eight times the moisture-absorbing qualities of air at 30°F. For this reason, there usually is no poultry house moisture problem in warm weather, but in cold weather the drying properties of air are relatively low.

Air currents should flow through the part of the house where the moisture is most prevalent, which usually is on the floor. The walls and ceiling usually do not get wet until the floor and litter are quite damp. If the floor can be kept dry there usually is no trouble with the ceiling. Therefore, the air currents seem most effective when they circulate close to the floor.

On the Anderson farm near Ebensburg there was trouble with dampness when the windows were hinged at the bottom and swung in at the top. This arrangement directed the air currents against the ceiling and kept it dry but the litter became damp. When the windows were hinged at the top to swing in below, the air was directed across the floor, thus solving the moisture problem in that house.

Sometimes poultrymen notice that their houses are dry during prolonged periods of cold weather below the freezing point, but get damp as soon as the temperature rises to the thawing point.

During a period of below freezing weather the vapor forms in frozen layers over the litter and it seems relatively dry. When the temperature rises this frozen coating melts and the litter immediately becomes very wet. Litter in such cases should be removed when thawing starts.

CLEAN DEPOSITS FROM SHRUBBERY AND TREES

In cities where smoke deposits accumulate on shrubbery and trees it is advisable to clean the plants at least once a year, recent experiments have shown.

Some time ago it was noticed that growers were unable to get their plants to thrive in city air and the discovery of a quickacting cleansing agent has assisted materially in improving the prevailing conditions.

When plants are few in number they may be cleaned off as early as possible in the spring with a solution of pure soap and tepid water. Accumulations of soot, ash, unburned oil and tar have resulted in sulphur compounds accumulating on the plants. Brown spots, which often occur on evergreens, sometimes are due to this sulphur burning.

In large planted areas a meta-phosphate solution should prove satisfactory. This solution may be made by mixing two and one-half pounds of meta-phosphate crystals to a gallon of water, to which a bar of pure soap, which has been dissolved in water, is added. This saturated solution should be thoroughly stirred, after which it may be mixed with 25 to 50 gallons of water. A small spraying apparatus may be used when applying the solution.

Both the upper and under surfaces of the evergreens should be sprayed and the solution allowed to remain for one-half hour, after which the evergreens should be thoroughly rinsed with water. This meta-phosphate solution removes the oil and tar binder which holds the accumulation of sooty material to the evergreens.

Smaller mixtures of this solution may be made for use on the average home grounds using 10 ounces of meta-phosphate crystals to a quart of water, to which one-quarter bar of soap has been added. This solution then can be used in a convenient hand sprayer after it has been mixed with 6 to 12 gallons of water.

KEEP ON

TOP O' THE WORLD

When you're feeling well, you're usually happy. Life is at its best. But when you're sick and blue, days lose their zest. You lack enthusiasm.

Common constipation, due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, is an enemy of happy living. It frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural food for normal persons. It furnishes generous "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this gentle food safer than risking patent medicines? Unlike cathartics, it remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MINISTER FINDS GHOST IN CHURCH

(International News Service)

LONDON—Ghosts—albeit devout phantoms—have driven flesh and blood worshippers from evening services at the Leyton, Essex, parish church. The Rev. R. Bren, vicar, alone dares to enter the church at night. And he has seen the apparitions. He said:

"I had gone into the church one night to switch on the lights, when I noticed two gray-clad women kneeling in prayer.

"I paid no attention at first. Suddenly I realized they could not have followed me into the church and certainly they could not have been there before me.

"When I looked again they had vanished. But I was not at all alarmed."

Democrats Will Rally Forces On Relief Measures

Not Disheartened Over Defeat Of World Court By Vote In Senate

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The administration's domestic legislative program was tied up in the senate today while Democratic leaders tried to rally their shattered ranks following their smashing defeat on the world court.

The $4,880,000,000 works-relief bill and the Wagner-Lewis social security measure are before committees and under constant attack. The leaders had the senate recess over the week-end to gain time for rallying their ranks.

May Modify Bills.

Both bills may be modified in the senate. This would not have been possible a week ago, before the president went down to defeat on the world court issue.

The Republicans, gaining heart from the court victory, are fighting to strip the president of some of the proposed unlimited power to spend the huge relief fund. They face a huge obstacle though in the administration's boast that enactment of the bill will enable the government to terminate direct relief by putting all unemployed on some work relief project by next fall at the latest.

The president's social security program is threatened with further liberalization. His proposal for a $15 federal monthly contribution to state old age pensions may be increased. A number of Democrats and Republicans charge the president's sum would prove too inadequate to give decent living to the aged.

Would Provide Fund For Street Improvements

Council To Establish Revolving Fund Of $100,000 For Work

Prior to the introduction before council in meeting at the city building today of a measure providing for the paving and curbing of certain dirt streets, Councilman Hoyland introduced another bill which appropriates $100,000, out of current revenue and uncollected taxes not otherwise appropriated as a rotating fund for the improvement of the streets, sewers and water courses. It was sent to committee.

The measure provides that the money is to be set aside and designated as Improvement Fund, Special 1935, and shall be used to pay the entire or any part of the cost and expense of the improvements.

The funds shall be maintained for such time as the necessity continues and then, what is left can be reappropriated to other public purposes or may be returned to the general revenue.

As soon as all the charges and expenditures out of Appropriation 4CB, Special 1934, have been paid or money established and set aside, in the appropriation to satisfy the same, all collections of the city delinquent taxes levied for general revenue purposes shall be paid into and set aside to this appropriation, Improvement Fund, Special 1935, until all expenses against this appropriation are hereby fully satisfied or secured.

From the intellectual point of view an abyss may exist between the great mathematician and the common laborer; but from the point of view of character the difference is often slight or non-existent.

Mounties Trail Ghost Creating Terror On Farm

(International News Service)

BURGESS, Ont., Feb. 1.—Three flat-irons "walked" down a staircase—one step at a time—in John Quinn's farmhouse here...

So today the doughty Mounties are searching the place, determined to "get their ghost."

Witnesses in whose veracity the neighborhood has faith say pieces of firewood have been leaping from the kitchen woodbox. Other strange things are reported in the Quinn house. A tea kettle jumped off the stove. A beef bone a foot long was thrown from the house again and again. But it kept flying back through a window like a boomerang.

Every pane in every window of the house has been broken mysteriously. Reports of the "ghost", have brought hundreds of rubber-necking motorists to this little community.

William Cordick, John Quinn's neighbor, said he saw the flat-irons "walking down stairs". Rev. Father Whelan parish priest, saw a window shattered mysteriously. Andrew Burke, farmer, saw windows breaking and stones dropping without apparent natural cause.

The Mounties "get their man" John Quinn hopes they'll "get their ghost."

This was under consideration by the Exchange's law committee which is studying the proposed reorganization.

They were treated at the scene by police surgeons. Gas company workers repaired the main that cracked because of extreme cold.

STORE DUMMIES HAVE COME TO LIFE AND NOW THEY ARE REAL FOLK

The manikin or store dummy has undergone many transformations. In the United States the first figures to serve as display for advertising purposes were the cigar store Indians. About a century ago shop keepers first began to use dummies, to display clothes, first using simple dress forms minus heads, arms or legs. Then came the wax figures, and next the modernistic figure with grotesque or wholly expressionless face. Within the last few years the manikin has become a mere suggestion of the human form, with face no longer modeled but indicated by a few bold strokes. The newest dummies, however, not only are life size and formed like persons, but they are set in groups to look as much like folk as possible. Those pictured are some which will be used at the centuries old Leipzig fair, which opens March 1, in Leipzig, Germany. They include a debutante type manikin at left, a family group, top center, sisters or chums at the piano, below, and a literary young woman at right. The same ideas are carried out in our shops.

Sees Her First Auto At Age Of 17

Young Woman Led Robinson Cruso life On Alentian Island

(International News Service)

SEWARD, Alaska—After 17 years, since she first saw the light of day, Miss Lillian Osterbeck, accompanied by her sister Mattie, saw and rode in an automobile as the first thrill after a Robinson Cruso life far out among the Aleutian Islands.

The Osterbecks live on Wosnessenski Island. This was the first visit of the young ladies to a modern town. They were enroute to San Francisco, to spend the winter.

But life far out on the fringe of the Western American has its avenues for culture. Lillian is an expert telegrapher and an honored member of the American Relay league, a world-wide group of operators. She also holds an amateur operator's license.

She carries on conversations with ships at sea, receives the news which breaks the monotony of isolation, and on many occasions has assisted ships with weather data from her station.

All members of the Osterbeck family excepting the mother are expert telegraph operators. The father, Alfred Osterbeck, and a brother, Walter, took up telegraphy. It appealed to both daughters, who also began study, Miss Lillian proving more adept than the others .

Like many occupants of the fretwork of islands composing the Aleutian chain, the Osterbecks raise blue foxes.

New Symphony By Schubert To Have Its First Hearing

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Feb. 1.—Thanks to Felix Weingartner Schubert lovers in Vienna are to hear a new Schubert Symphony, hitherto unperformed.

It is in E-major and was written by Franz Schubert in 1821, one year before his famous "Unfinished Symphony."

This E-major symphony also is unfinished; some of the 170 pages of the score are merely sketched in. Apparently Schubert jotted down only the highlights with the intention of putting in the finishing touches later.

Soon after Schubert died, the score was found and given by his brother, Ferdinand Schubert, to the composer Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy. Through the latter the manuscript cames to the English scholar, Grove, in London.

Grove's interest in it was that of a historian and made no attempt to have it perfo med. Hence until Felix Weingartner discovered the Symphony once more, musicians were unaware of its existence. He will conduct it this season in Vienna and in summer at the Salzburg Festivals.

CLUE TO KIDNAP VICTIM IS FOUND AFTER 45 YEARS

(International News Service)

THESSALON, Ont.—After 45 years a clue to Maude Gillespie, who was kidnapped when she was 12 years old by gypsy redskins, has appeared. If she is still alive she would be 57 years old today.

Long ago she was given up by her family and relatives as dead. But her brother, William Gillespie, now is investigating a tale which may lead to her discovery. He has been told that a woman, mother of five Indian children, who might be his sister, last summer spoke to an aviator who had landed near an Indian camp near Hudson Bay.

The woman, according to the story brought to Gillespie by a northern woodsman asked the way to Thessalon, Ont. She told the airman of her parents and childhood on a farm here, and said she wanted to visit her people.

The girl was lost 45 years ago when she strayed from her brothers and sisters while picking blue berries in the country. A search was started, but she was never found.

Third Witness Gives Alibi Aid

Declares He Saw Hauptmann In New York With Dog, March 1, 1932

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 1.—A new defense witness—the third to do so—Thursday afternoon placed Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the Bronx, New York City, on the night of March 1, 1932, the night the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped in New Jersey. The witness was August Von Henkel, a former restaurant man, who spoke with a marked German accent.

Von Henkel said he was in the Bronx a short distance from the Fredericksen bakery that night and he quarrelled with a man over a dog.

This man he identified in court as Bruno Hauptmann.

Von Henkel said he had owned a police dog named "Rex" which was stolen during the middle of February, 1932. On the night of March 1, 1932, he saw a man walking with a dog in the Bronx.

"Tell what happened," suggested Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel for the defense.

"I saw a police dog," said Von Henkel. "I went after the dog and a man is with the dog. I says, 'Is that your dog?' and he says, 'No, he belongs to the baker down there.' He pointed down the street. I says, 'If that is my dog, I am going to have you arrested.'"

"Do you remember that man?"

A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you see him in the courtroom?

A.—Yes. That is the man.

Von Henkel pointed to Hauptmann and the defendant rose half way out of his chair.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz reprimanded Hauptmann for standing up.

Q.—(Reilly)—There is no doubt about that being the man?

A.—No.

RECEIVES WORD OF SISTER'S DEATH

Henry M. Allen of Chestnut street has received word of the death of his sister, Mrs. Josie Sheppard of Chattanooga, Tenn., which occurred following an illness of pneumonia on last Thursday. Mr. Allen visited his sister several years ago, having not seen her for 35 years.

If she carries him like a vase he's her first baby. If she carries him like a raincoat, he's probably her fourth.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. January 31, four arrests on charges of drunkenness.

Efficiency of the police radio system installed here was proven yesterday when the city police received information that a holdup had been attempted at the State bank in Bessemer. State police flashed a message to Troop D at Butler and the message was sent over the teletype to all points in the state. At the same time sergeant of city police Grover Syling broadcast the attempted holdup over the radio and the call was picked up by the Youngstown police department radio receivers. Within a short time state police, New Castle constables, Sheriff Edward Pritchard, state highway patrolmen and a cruiser car with Youngstown officers were at the bank according to the writer, who with another New Castle News reporter flashed a complete account of the would-be holdup to The News.

Edward Scales, alias "Jack of Diamonds", colored, who was captured by Chief or Police Archie Shoup when Scales was too slow to catch the car driven by a negress and accompanied by her white companion, is well known here. He was a well known character of "The Bad Lands" about 15 years ago. He was sentenced to the western penitentiary from Lawrence county for attempted rape a few years ago and was released 11 months ago. Since then he has been in and out of New Castle, his last place of residence here having been in the first ward. As soon as State Policeman Paul Engle saw "Jack of Diamonds" he recognized him as a former character. A few years ago Scales was severely wounded at Farrell and for a time was not expected to live. However, he did.

Director of Streets B. F. Butler and Engineer Harry Hoskins have returned from an inspection of graders at Pittsburgh. During the budget making session at city hall toward the last of December, Butler described his street department equipment woes to his councilmanic colleagues. He declared he not only needed a new truck but also a new grader. Mayor Charles B. Mayne charged that other councilmen had made no attemp to cut down their department appropriations whereas he had. The appropriations were made up practically as they first demanded. The bids for a new truck will be opened by council February 8, and as Butler pointed out that the present grader is too light and too costly to do all the work required on the streets, indications are the city will purchase another for the department of streets.

PETER'S RESTORATION

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

John 21:17—"Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 3 is Mark 16:7; John 20:1-10; 21:1-23, the Golden Text being John 21:17, "Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee".)

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

That was a dark night of gloom into which Peter went out from the high priest's house weeping bitterly as he caught the sad glance of the Saviour whom he had thrice denied with cursing and oathes. In this gloom he spent three age long days between that first Good Friday and the first Easter.

The first clear star of hope to break through the gloom of those three days was found in the angel's message to the disciples with the significant addition of those two cheering words "and Peter": "Go, tell his disciples and Peter, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him, as he said unto you." Here was a gospel to Peter in these two words! Had Judas not already committed suicide one wonders if the message would not have read "and Peter and Judas"! Truly, "having loved his own, he loved them unto the end." Not only did Peter, the denier, receive this special message of hope but he was the first of the apostles to be granted a vision of the risen Lord that Easter day before he appeared to the eleven as they met behind closed doors. Peter's bitter tears of remorse here had a chance to mingle with tears of joy over the assurance of his Master's forgiveness. Had Peter preached Judas' funeral sermon he would certainly have included some such phrase as this: "But for the grace of God there lies Simon Peter the denier."

Peter And John At Tomb

How characteristic of Peter is John's account of his own and Peter's investigation of the report of the women that the tomb was empty: "Peter therefore went forth and the other disciple, and they went towards the tomb . . . and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the tomb . . . yet entered he not in. Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb."

"I Go A Fishing"

Equally characteristic of his impulsiveness was his announcement some days later back in Galilee that he was returning to his old job of fishing for a living; "I go a fishing." Instantly they all were ready to throw over as visionary and impractical the Master's challenge, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." They say unto him, We also come with thee." Luckily, that night they caught nothing and in their depression were more ready to listen to the Master's voice calling them anew to be fishers of men.

"Lovest Thou Me?"

Then in the early morning by another fire of coals Jesus appeared asking Peter about the love of which he had boasted as so superior to that of all the other disciples: "Simon, son of John, lovest thou me more than these?" Peter humbly professed his love with a more moderate word somewhat akin to our word "like". A second time the Master probed the denier's heart for love, and then the third time he used Peter's word, as if to ask, "Peter, do you even like me?" Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, "Lovest thou me? and he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee." It was enough. He who three times denied his Lord with oaths here thrice confessed and pledged his love and was reinstated in the place from which he had fallen. Verily "To err is human, to forgive, divine!"

VEGETABLES FOR RELIEF FAMILIES TOSSED IN OCEAN

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—Several scow loads of New York State cabbage—five million of them—sent here for distribution by the ERA, and dumped down the harbor, now are being puzzled over the fish that swim in those waters.

Although State ERA officials denied that any of the cabbage shipped here had been thrown away, Thomas F. Sullivan, Boston ERA administrator, admitted that a large quantity of the vegetable, rapidly becoming more powerful than the strongest perfumes of Araby, had been towed to destruction.

No explanation was given for the failure to distribute them to relief families except that they were spoiled.

THOUSANDS SAY
NEW INDO-VIN
HAS NO EQUAL

This Great Medicine Is Now The Talk of New Castle And Hundreds Say That "Nothing Like It Ever Came Here Before."

Being Introduced At A Price Every Person Can Easily Afford.

The new, scientific medicine, containing 29 of nature's finest ingredients, known as Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to the public daily here in this city at Eckerd's Drug Store has become a regular sensation here in New Castle and general vicinity. At the same time, thousands who have already started taking Indo-Vin are calling this "wonder compound" a blessing to their health. Druggists and public alike state that nothing like it has ever been seen here before.

WHAT INDO-VIN IS!

An advanced, modern formula. Not a cure-all, not a 'patent' medicine, but a remarkable new system cleanser, containing 29 of Nature's Finest Health-Building Ingredients, and not one a habit-forming drug. It has a great action upon EACH of the FOUR important organs—Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels.

It will bring out awful impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside of you for a long time, causing you many days of misery with headaches, dizzy spells, skin eruptions and lazy, drowsy, tired feeling.

Indo-Vin will relieve acid conditions and make the digestive organs sweet and clean.

IT WILL act as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys and flush out quantities of impurity that may have become dammed up inside, causing BACKACHE, SHARP PAINS and RISING AT NIGHT. Relieves children from bed-wetting in a few days.

It will make your liver more active; will work the old bile from the liver as black as ink, thus relieving spells of biliousness and sick-headache. Strengthens the nerves by natural means, without harmful drugs.

Relieves rheumatism and neuritis by driving out the metabolic poisons that cause the awful aches and pains, giving quick relief.

Indo-Vin will make your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels more active; build you up in general and make you LOOK, ACT and FEEL like a DIFFERENT MAN OR WOMAN, years younger than your real age.

Following are JUST A FEW testimonials, selected at random from among the HUNDREDS that are being received from this vicinity. Read these statements:

Harrisburg Lady Praises Indo-Vin

MRS. SARAH E. GROCE, of 1728 Market St., Harrisburg, Pa., said: (photo appears above) "I had no appetite and would feel sluggish and drowsy all through the day. I had also gotten to be a victim of constipation and was a CONSTANT USER of laxatives. I never knew what it was to get a good night of rest, for my nerves were 'on edge' ALL THE TIME, and I always felt 'fagged out' in the mornings. I tried a lot of medicines but got NO RELIEF until I found Indo-Vin and three bottles of it changed me entirely. This new medicine certainly had a wonderful action on my whole system. It has given me new life and energy. I now have a splendid appetite and my bowels are regulated for the first time in years, and I never have the nervous spells like I had before. I am GLAD to endorse this medicine, for it deserves anybody's praise."

Awful Kidney Affliction

MR. JUAN MARTINEZ, of 300 Cedar St., Duquesne, Pa., said: "For 7 years I almost suffered death with my kidney trouble. This kept getting worse all the time and I always felt weak and sore across my kidneys; then during the day, if I happened to stoop over, sharp pains would almost stifle me. I never knew what it was to get a decent night of rest because I had to get up to relieve my kidneys 3 or 4 times. I always felt 'fagged out' in the mornings and would drag through the day in constant misery. My condition was simply awful, but Indo-Vin went right to the source of my trouble. It has a wonderful action on my kidneys and the sharp pains in my back that I had been having for years have now DISAPPEARED, and you don't know what a wonderful relief that is to me. I feel fine in the mornings now, for I NEVER have to get up at night any more. Indo-Vin has improved my WHOLE SYSTEM and I want to publicly endorse it to all suffering people."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store, and sold by every good druggist in all the nearby towns throughout this whole section.

HE SAW HAUPTMANN AT BAKERY

ELBERT CARLSTROM

Elbert Carlstrom, 27-year-old Swede, is shown in the Flemington, N. J., courtroom after he testified for the defense that he saw Bruno Hauptmann in a bakery on the night of the Lindbergh baby crime. Carlstrom, a bakery customer, said Mrs. Hauptmann waited on him and that Bruno was there reading.

DEFENSE EXPERT GIVES TESTIMONY ON HANDWRITING

mark, thus "dear sir!" in the ransom notes.

Reilly glanced significantly at the jury as he repeated the question.

Q.—Does that exclamation mark appear any place in the exhibits of Mr. Osborn (Albert S. Osborn, dean of the state's handwriting experts.)

A.—No, it does not.

Reilly passed the ransom note to the jurors and asked them to observe the unusual punctuation "dear sir!"

Q.—Is it a fact that the word "dear" in the ransom notes does not appear on Mr. Osborn's charts.

A.—It does not.

Q.—Does the letter "s" in the next word "sir" appear on Mr. Osborn's charts.

A—I don't see it.

Trendley began to point out differences in the handwriting of Hauptmann and the penmanship of the ransom notes.

Q—I ask you, Mr. Trendley, to take the word "have," the first word of the ransom note. Is it not true that the "A" is different than that in "dear!"

A—Yes it has a 25 per cent more slant to the left.

Passes Notes To Jury

Reilly passed the ransom note to the jury and told them to observe the difference. It was the first time in the trial the jurors had been allowed to handle one of the 14 kidnap notes.

Q—The salutation, "Dear Sir,"—does it not in the note have an exclamation point after it.

A—Yes.

Q—Is it on the charts.

A—No.

Q—Is it fair to assume that Mr. Osborn has failed to put on the charts the salutation "Dear Sir."

A—It's not there.

Q—Is it true the "ir" of "Sir" is a continuity of pen strokes.

A—It is.

Q—Well now, you point out the "ir" of "Sir" if it's on those charts.

A—It's not there.

Referring to the ransom amount, $50,000, Trendley said:

"I am positive there are no such figures on Mr. Osborn's charts."

Q—The next symbol on the ransom note here is an "S" with some lines through it to denote the dollar sign. It that on the Osborn charts.

A—It is not.

Neither did the charts indicate any letters contained in the word "Ready," the witness said.

Q—See if there are any "y's" on the charts.

A—Yes. Several. Some are from the ransom writing and some from the Hauptmann "request" writing.

Q—Do you find any "y" in the ransom notes that correspond with the "y" in the request writings.

Pass Note Again

A—I do not.

Again the ransom note was passed among the jurors.

Reilly asked the witness if the unusual "ave" and "dy" or the figures "50,000" from the ransom notes were used in Osborne's exhibits.

"They were not," said Trendley.

The witness pointed out the letter combination "ave" as in "have" was always a continuous line in the ransom notes.

He showed that where "dy" come together, as in "redy" for "ready" in the ransom notes the "D" and "Y" were separate. The line between the letters always was broken.

Reilly impressively held up the charts before the jurors.

Q—Now, did you notice a peculiarity of the "Y" in "redy" and "money" in the ransom notes?

A—Yes.

Shows Card

Q—Now, I show you this card, which I offer to have marked for identification, and ask you if the "Y" shown in it is similar to the "Y" in ready.

A—Yes.

Assistant Attorney General Lanigan objected to the admission of the card as evidence. He said:

"We don't know what that card is and how it is connected with the case. It might be the history of the world for all we know."

"Hardly, on a post card," Reilly answered, sarcastically.

Turning to the court, he said:

"We intend to show merely that the characteristics of the 'Y' in this postal card are similar to the 'Y' in the ransom note. We will connect it up later."

A recess was taken at this point and defense counsel told reporters the card was a Christmas card sent to Hauptmann from Isidor Fisch after going to Germany, where he died.

POLICE GET CLUES ON COMPANIONS OF BANK BANDIT

through the front door as Weitz jumped to his feet and seized a revolver. Mandich and he rushed to the street. The red car with the Negress and her white companion was speeding toward the Hillsville road past the police station. Weitz fired six bullets in the direction of the car.

In the meanwhile Chief of Police Archie Shoup, who was preparing to attend the funeral of a relative, ran to the bank. A young man told Shoup he had saw a man run along the "river" in the direction of the Bessemer Limestone & Cement Company office. Shoup ran toward the building.

Scales Captured

Scales entered the cement company office building and fled to the cellar where he hid behind a furnace. Shoup pursued the Negro, raced downstairs, seized "Jack of Diamonds" and hurled him to the floor. He found the Negro unarmed. It was shortly afterward that the gun was found near the bank and turned over to Shoup.

The Negro was locked up. Within a few minutes state police from New Castle and from New Brighton, Sheriff Edward Pritchard, state highway patrolmen and Constables O'Brien and Fair were at the bank. They found nothing had been stolen, learned the particulars of the attempted robbery then quizzed Scales.

He was untalkative in the main, but a word spoken now and then, gave the officers one or two leads and indications are that it may not be long until Scales' companions will be under lock and key. Their identities and haunts are believed to have been definitely established.

After having been brought here Scales was questioned by Sheriff Pritchard and State Policemen Engle, McCullough and Cgeckeloski. He told of his previous brushes with the law, and they finally succeeded in securing the first names of his companions.

Picked Up In Youngstown

He admitted having been employed at a Boardman street saloon, Youngstown. Scales also confessed he was a "Numbers Writer" and when told that he and his companions had planned the holdup during several discussions over a period of a week he admitted the discussions.

Scales said that Thursday morning his companions had driven to a point in Abbott street, Youngstown and had "picked him up." However, he said that his white companion had "spotted the bank" and then told of being driven to Bessemer and of the two men entering the bank while the woman took the wheel of the car.

Several times Scales attempted to evade leading questions put forward by police and when pinned down with the question as to who pointed the gun at Cashier Weitz, answered: "I guess I did." He declared his companion also had a revolver, but claims he did not see it. Scales said the gun he used also belonged to his bandit pal.

He said the woman did not get out of the car and did not know if she kept the motor running. Asked as to what he had done with the handkerchief or scarf with which he masked his face, he said he did not remember.

Scales declared he ran out ahead of his companion when Weitz dropped behind the bank counter and shouted for assistance.

When asked why he did not get into the car, he replied, "I just didn't get in."

The supposition of the police was that Scales either believed safety lay in flight along the creek or his companion out-ran him to the car and believing Scales would delay their get-away the woman started the car toward Hillsville.

Scales is no stranger in Bessemer. He worked there years ago and once was arrested when Jack Dunlap was county detective and the Bessemer police chief was named Myers.

Federal Relief Funds Are Low

New Work Relief Bill Must Be Passed To Meet Situation

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Federal emergency relief went on practically a day-to-day basis today, with funds for allotment available only up to Feb. 10, pending Senate action on the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill.

The FERA has only $50,000,000 left Administrator Harry L. Hopkins said no allotments were made for the full first ten days of February, but that the money would be "spread out as far as it will go".

Hopkins emphasized the organization would not incur any obligations to extend after Feb. 10 unless the huge appropriation bill, which carries $880,000,000 for emergency relief, is passed. Some states, he said, have funds left over from previous allotments, but these are "comparatively few."

Cut Ice When Dam Becomes Threatened

Lakewood Thickness Now Is Almost 15 Inches; Spillway Endangered

Heavy ice cakes were cut from around the spillway of Lakewood beach on Thursday when it became apparent that mounting ice pressure threatened possible destruction of the dam, according to reports from Lakewood today.

John Rung, owner of the beach, said the lake ice measured 14 and 15 inches today. Around the dam the the thickness measured eight and nine inches.

Hundreds from all over the locality, it was said, spent the day at the lake yesterday.

CITY TO EMPLOY RADIO REPAIRMAN

When council met today Mayor Mayne took the floor and offered a bill whereby the city will employ a radio repair man at a salary of $25.00, a month. The bill was sent to committee.

It is said the bill will be enacted into city law and that Wayne Sines who built the radio system here will be employed.

Make Plans For Street Paving

Many Streets May Be Improved Under New Paving Program

ENABLING BILLS BEFORE COUNCIL

Enabling legislation today was presented before council at their city hall meeting which will permit the city to grade, curb and pave certain streets providing the residents thereof present petitions containing a majority of interests and foot frontage concerned asking for the improvement. The bill was sent to committee.

It was reported to council that petitions are being circulated by residents of several streets and in order that there be legislation passed which would result in speedy work being accomplished the enabling bill today provided for the improvement of the said several streets.

The streets which residents want improved and for which petitions may be presented are as follows:

Streets Included

Leasure Avenue between Mercer Street and Wilmington Avenue: width 36 feet. Franklin Avenue between Washington Street and Stanton Avenue: width 24 feet. Sumner Avenue between Albert Street and Carlisle Street width 36 feet. Hazelcroft Avenue between Carlisle Street and Mercer Street; width 36 feet. Randolph Street between Arlington Avenue and Lutton Street; width 30 feet. Hillcrest Avenue between Albert Street and Highland Avenue; width 30 feet. Richilieu Avenue between East Main Street and Erie Avenue; width 24 feet. Garfield Avenue between Albert Street and Highland Avenue; width 36 feet. Garfield Avenue between Albert Street and Mercer Street; 36 feet. Garfield Avenue between Mercer Street and Wilmington Avenue; 36 feet. Englewood Avenue between Highland Avenue and Mercer St., 30 feet. Raymond Street between Butler Avenue and Oak Street; 24 feet.

Under the petition plan announced by council the city engineer has estimated the cost of paving and curbing the streets at about $1.65 per foot front.

The bill says that the whole cost and expense of supplies and materials contracted for are assessed against the abutting properties according to the foot front rule and said assessments are hereby appropriated to the Improvement Fund, Special 1935, already created by ordinance.

When materials and materials contracted for are delivered, the bill says they shall be paid for by certificates to be issued on the first of the month following, which shall be charged against the Improvement Fund, Special 1935 and payable within two years from the fund with interest at the rate of six percent from date. The total amount of such certificates issued and outstanding shall never exceed the amount of the appropriation, the bills states.

Under the terms of the bill, the city engineer shall apportion and assess the cost and expense upon the properties as soon as the work is completed and shall certify them to the city solicitor for collection or for filing liens as provided by law.

The special assessments on the properties shall be liens thereon from the date of the contract for the purpose of supplies.

Under the payment plan provided by the bill, assessments can be paid in 24 equal monthly installments with the cost of filing and interest to be arrested upon all installments as paid.

Under the last section of the bill it says that any of the claims for such assessments may be paid at any time.

New Paving Plan Brings Problems

Council Asked About Payment Of Corner Lot Assessments

Frank Johnson and Michael Mulcahy appeared before council in the city building today relative to the proposed circulation of a petition for the paving by a rock base and amiesite top of Northview avenue. They asked council the charge and facts concerning corner lots.

The query about corner lots came after Councilman D. O. Davies had asked colleagues to work out some plan whereby the man who lives on a corner lot along which streets are unimproved will not have to pay so much for paving.

Solicitor White told the callers that an adjustment may have to be made for each particular street. He said that he did not see how any one set rule for all streets could be made.

He advocated the passing of a petition in which it would provide that corner lots fronting on more than one street shall only pay a proportionate part of the front and the balance would be paid by the city.

Under an old rule of the city the plan was to divide the balance between what the corner lot owner paid and the other property owners on the street.

White Rules City Can Pay

Solicitor Says Fee Of $4,000 To Electrical Survey Organization Can Be Paid

City Solicitor Robert M. White today delivered to City Controller Earl Wimer an opinion in which he stated the city of New Castle could legally pay to Burns & McDonnell a second installment amounting to $4,000, on their contract for making an inventory of the property of the Pennsylvania Power company. Two thousand dollars was paid the firm sometime ago. After the opinion had been given Wimer, council voted approval of the payment of $4,000.

Wimer had asked White for an opinion as it has been alleged by certain persons that the city is "out of order" in its inventory program, that the expenditure of city funds for the purpose illegal and that the controller is subject to surcharge if he approves expenditures for this purpose.

The letter to White from Wimer said that council bill No. 15 passed in 1934, appropriates money for a survey of municipal lighting only and does not relate to a survey in connection with domestic and commercial lightning and the city has never been legally appointed the representative of the citizens for the purpose of inquiring into the rates paid by them to the Pennsylvania Power company for electric current.

Wimer said he had never been in any of the meetings held between council and White and therefore wanted an opinion so he would be in a position to act when called on to sign the check in connection with the Burns & McDonnell contract.

White said in the opinion the firm is entitled to the payment and without further delay.

Townsend Refuses To Be Questioned

Doctor Would Give $200 To All Over 60, But Refuses To Be Questioned

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. — Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the mild-mannered California physician who has intrigued millions with his $200-a-month old age pension plan, declined today to submit to questioning by members of the House ways and means committee.

After briefly explaining his plan, Dr. Townsend said he had promised his physicians to avoid any "undue strain". He asked that a statistician in his organization be substituted for him next week.

The physician issued a veiled warning to Congress that he would become active on the political stump unless his plan is approved.

"It is only fair to state that the people are watching you and will act accordingly," said Dr. Townsend.

Constitutional Convention May Hit Legal Snag

Supreme Court Opinions Are Cited In Instances Of In Other States

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Legal barriers threaten the administration plan to convene a constitutional convention without a popular referendum if previous court interpretations of legislative authority hold good in Pennsylvania.

In two other states, legislative enactment of a bill convening a constitutional convention has been invalidated by state supreme courts on the grounds that the legislature cannot change the basic law of the people which creates it and authorizes its functions.

The Ruth bill, sponsored by the administration of Gov. George H. Earle, provides election of delegates at a special election May 14, to meet June 4 in convention without a referendum to permit voters to determine whether they want a convention to meet. The lack of this provision is one of the chief differences between the Democratic and Republican proposals for constitutional revision.

The most recent court test of legislative authority to convene a constitutional convention came in Indiana in 1917. The supreme court there decided, 4 to 1, that the legislative act providing for election of delegates was unconstitutional. The minority opinion of one asserted the legislature had such authority because it was not expressly denied by the constitution.

Prior to the Indiana case, the North Dakota supreme court handed down a similar decision in 1896, asserting:

"The declared sense of the American people....cannot but be received with great respect and reverence; and it appears to be the almost universal will....that conventions to alter the constitution shall not be called at the instance of the legislature without the previous sanction of the people by whom those constitutions were ordained."

Pennsylvania has never had a test case on the question, although Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti is reported ready to go before the supreme court with a "case stated" or friendly suit if the administration's bill without a referendum on calling the convention is enacted. Six previous constitutional conventions have been submitted to the people and three of them were agreed to and the conventions were held. The constitution of 1789 was adopted without a preliminary referendum but no court test was made of the legislature's authority to call the convention.

New Brighton Here Tonight

New Castle High Will Battle For League Lead With Valley Quintet

PRELIM STARTS AT 7:15 O'CLOCK

WITH SUPREMACY of the section three basketball league at stake the New Castle high school basketball team and New Brighton high floor team will argue it out at George Washington junior high tonight. The winner will stay on the top of the W. P. I. A. L. schoolboy race. The reserves of New Castle and New Brighton will furnish the preliminary dish at 7:15 p. m.

"One of the best games of the year," was the way Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner put it today.

Victory is Sweet.

New Castle is anxious to win the game tonight. The New Brightonians won the game played at the valley hardwood floor earlier in the year. The Castles are going to try hard to get an even break. New Brighton will have to keep Koszela and Tuscano well in check if they hope to win. These two boys have helped to put New Castle up at the top. New Castle wants revenge for that 19 to 16 setback at Brighton.

Coach Roark will bring a veteran New Brighton high team to New Castle tonight. If Ambridge tops Beaver Falls tonight and New Castle wins the locals will have undisputed possession of first place; the same holds good for New Brighton in case of a victory for the visitors.

The game will be handled by those two well known veteran officials, Al Slack and Cal Bolster, and two finer gentlemen and referees could not be found anywhere.

Probable Lineups.

The probable lineups:

New Castle		New Brighton
Koszela	F	Bingham
Carik	F	Kradel
Nahas	C	Sayre
Ostrosky	G	Suskiewich
Tuscano	G	Miller

Referee—Cal Bolster.
Umpire—Al Slack.

Second Half Of House-Indus Loop Starts Saturday

Castletons And "Y" Devil Dogs Tied For First-Half Championship

The second half of the House-Indus basketball league at the "Y" will start Saturday night with the National Pants and Castletons tangling. The game will start at 8 o'clock. The "Y" Devil Dogs and Castletons tied for first half championship which ended last week.

In the second game on the Saturday night car the "Y" Devil Dogs will play the fast Epworth M. E. quintet of the Church League. The House-Indus league will play twice around in the second half.

Union Playing At Zelienople

Union High School basketball team will go to Zelienople tonight for a Section 18 W. P. I. A. L. league battle. The Unionites are taking on the league leaders and hope to stage an upset. Coach Davey Boyd will have his strongest lineup available for the battle tonight.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Joey Bazzone, of Pittsburgh and Lou Halper of Newark, N. J., slugged to a 10 round draw last night at Chicago and in another 10 round bout Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight champion and Leo Rodak also fought 10 chapters. The gate receipts for the Chicago show drew $31,433.10, which is tall money for a pugilistic event these days.

Among the Chicago Clubs who has signed for the 1935 season is Larry French and Frank Demaree. Chuck Klein has not yet signed and others who are on the holdout list are Woody English, Bill Lee, Bill Herman and Tex Carleton.

Forty three nations have entered athletics in the Olympic games to be held in 1936 in Germany. Among them are Egypt, Brazil, Portugal and Honduras. Already there are entered six more nations than the number which competed in the Olympics at Los Angeles, Cal.

Charles Guest, of Los Angeles, shot a 66, four under par to take the lead in the Oakmont, Cal. $6,500 open golf tournament after the first round yesterday. At St. Augustine, Fla., Tommy Goodwin, Mamaroneck, N. Y. defending title-holder fell in the first round of golf club champions, 5 and 4, under the stroking of C. B. Mitchell, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

First Half Of City League At Humbert Hall Is Tied Up As Result Of Victory

HUTCHISON AND REIBER STARS

Playing a fast and furious game of basketball the Gersons handed the league leading Perelmans a 48 to 32 upset at the Humbert Hall City league last night and thereby threw the first-half championship into a tie between the two contesting teams. The playoff game will be announced later.

The game was nip and tuck all the way. The high-point man of the game was Tommy Hutchison with 16 points, with "Bus" Reiber kicking in with 13 points, and Jimmy Shaffer having eight points.

Big Joe Kelly and Nickie Ross led the Perelmans in scoring, with J. Shaftic and Llewellyn also playing a fine brand of basketball. The lead see-sawed back and forth several times during the battle.

In the preliminary game the Humberts bested the Night School team 17 to 16.

Titans Resume Drills Following Week Layoff

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 1—Westminster basketball players resumed regular practice sessions last night after a layoff for one week due to final examinations. The Titan players have had two half-hour warmups during this period, but have not had a regular drill.

Last night and tonight the drills will take more than an hour, and stiff scrimmages are being used in an effort to get the squad in shape for important games Monday and Wednesday nights next week with Bethany and Geneva on the home floor.

The eligibility status of Leyshock and of other members of the squad will probably not be known until Saturday when grades are all turned in the registrar's office. If the entire Titan squad is available for the last 12 contests on the schedule, then Coach John Lawther will have an opportunity of winning a number of games. Unless all players are available, the Titans will not stand much of a chance against Geneva, Bethany, Edinboro, and other strong teams, especially away from home.

Ken Grubb, who underwent an operation for appendicitis just as the season was starting, has fully recovered and is expected to report to the squad again Monday. If Leyshock becomes eligible again, this will bolster the Titan cause considerable.

Both the Bethany game Monday night and the Geneva game Wednesday night of next week will start at 8:15, officials state. Reservations for Geneva game tickets to date are two-thirds of the total number of seats available.

Braddock-Lasky Battle Tonight

Considerable Interest Attached To Heavyweight Bout In New York Tonight

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—When an experimental guinea pig turns and bites the doctor in a laboratory, that's news.

And should James J. Braddock, the pugilistic equivalent of the guinea pig, drop Dr. Art Lasky in the Madison Square Garden laboratory tonight, that will be more news.

But it will not be a new experience for James J., the Jersey jolter.

Experts Fooled.

Time and again James has been led in for the expected slaughter and time and again James has been the slaughterer, not the slaughteree.

The boys in the fight racket repeatedly have had James all washed up and ready for the chopping block. All too often they have thrown James in with some rising young practitioner of the ring, only to see James blast the R. Y. P. right out of the lot.

There was that time years ago when they laid four to one that Jimmy Slattery, then a phenom, would slap Mr. Braddock silly. There was only one slight hitch in the arrangements: They forgot to advise Mr. Braddock that he was to be slapped around.

James Comes Through.

So what happened? Well, our hero went out and stopped Mr. Slattery unconscious in nine heats.

Then some misguided souls laid five to one the then rising Tuffy Griffiths would annihilate our James and this time our James laid Tuffy among the sweet peas in less than two rounds.

Again, after Pete Latzo had held Tommy Loughran to a draw when Tommy was good, the boys opined—at the rate of 5 to 1—that our James would be a soft touch for Pete. That time our James broke Pete's jaw.

Boys League To Play Saturday

There will be several fast games played Saturday in the Boy's league at the "Y" floor. The first game will start at 2 o'clock.

Following is the schedule for tomorrow afternoon:

"Y" Intermediates vs N. Rangers
N. C. Trojans vs "Y" Juniors.
Imperials vs. Majestics.
Second U. P. Juniors vs Keystone Midgets.
"Y" Devil Dogs vs Syrian Eagles.

FALCON JUNIORS WIN

Polish Falcon Juniors handed the West Pittsburg Reserves a 39 to 18 defeat last evening at the Falcon floor. The stars of the game were E. Koszela with 18 of the points for the Falcons, with Potoczny also playing a fine game for the Falcons, and with Cioni and Marcantino the best for the losers.

FLOOR NOTES IN NUTSHELL

THREE LEAGUE TILTS

Three Junior Independent league contests will be played on the Lincoln gymnasium, Saturday morning. The Catholics will oppose the Mercer A. C.; Fadales versus Elephants, and Buccaneers will meet the East Side quintet.

In two league contests played recently, the Buccaneers nosed out the Fardale passers 17-16, and the Humbert Stars romped off the court with an 11-6 victory over the Elephants club.

St. Michaels To Battle Epworth

St. Michaels Can Cinch First Half Title By Victory Tonight At "Y"

St. Michaels church basketball team will play the Epworth M. E. team tonight at the "Y" in the feature game on the New Castle church league bill. If the St. Michaels win, it will mean the first half title for the Babovskymen. This will be the third game on the program. The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

The Sacred Hearts and First Christians will battle in the first engagement of the night. The second game will find the Tifereth Israel and First M. E. teams tangling.

A defeat for the strong St. Mikes team will send the league into a three-way tie for the first-half championship. There is considerable interest in the game tonight. The Epworth team will have such stars as Jimmy Shaffer, Wyman brothers and Tommy Jones in the lineup. The St. Michaels will have the sensational young forward "Shimmy" Balla and Andy Motsko at the forward posts, with Walter Chernyavsky at the center job and M. Slosernick and either Hnat or Mackiewicz at the guards.

Risko Earns Draw In Chicago Bout

Tony Falco beat Young Firpo (not Henry) at Penns Grove, N. J., in 8 rounds last night and Eddie Babe Risko who won notoriety by scoring a technical kayo over Teddy Yarosz at Scranton only to drop a decision to Vince Dundee in New York earned a draw with Solly Dukelsky at Chicago in 10 rounds.

CANZONERI-ROSS MAY FIGHT
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—A third shot at Barney Ross for the lightweight championship appeared probable today for Tony Canzoneri after the veteran former titleholder handed Leo Rodak a ten round whipping last night in the Chicago stadium ring.

Superior punching power earned Canzoneri the unanimous verdict.

Traynor Leaves For California

Pittsburgh Pirates Manager Leaves Early For Scene Of 1935 Training Camp

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1—Departure of Manager Harold (Pie)) Traynor on a trip to the new San Bernardino, Cal., training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates early next week today caused speculation to turn to prospects for the 1935 baseball season.

The first group of battery men is due at camp on February 26. They will be joined March 5 by the remainder of the Pirate squad.

Suhr Is Holdout

One of the leading questions now is whether Gus Suhr, veteran first baseman, will accept terms offered him in his 1935 contract. Suhr is reported dissatisfied with his contract and has indicated his 1934 performance should merit a salary increase.

Another questionable Pirate is Floyd (Babe) Herman, former Chicago and Brooklyn outfielder who was traded to the Pirates this winter. Herman was quoted as saying he might not sign his contract until he has "talked it over" with Traynor.

Many Have Signed

Among those who have already signed contracts are Bill Swift, pitcher, and Guy Bush and Jim Weaver, pitchers traded to Pittsburgh with Herman.

Apparently signing members of the team is giving club officials little worry. As one member of the "official family" expressed it:

"We're better off than any club in either league."

Being a "best-dressed man" is not such a great achievement. But it's better than no publicity at all.

Three important basketball games will be played tonight in the Lawrence county high school floor league. All three games will involve the league leaders. Three teams are tied for first place, Shenango, New Wilmington and Bessemer.

New Wilmington high will play at New Wilmington with East Brook high as the opponents. The college town boys won the game played at East Brook earlier in the year and the Emerickmen are out for revenge.

Mt. Jackson high will travel to Bessemer for a return game, and the Spearmen enter th game tonight with a vengeance for the defeat administered to them at Mt. Jackson high floor earlier in the year.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

PRO FOOTBALL STILL IN INFANCY

That 21-0 defeat the Chicago Bears handed the New York Giants out in California last Sunday may have been something for the Windy City to cheer about, but it doesn't look like good business on the part of the National football league.

Just what does that game make the New York Giants? During the regular league season the Bears win two games from them. The postseason victory of last Sunday makes three. The world's champions, on the other hand, win only one game from the Bears, yet they grab all the bouquets.

It is probably just one of those things that will have to be ironed out in the future. It is, most certainly, better to have them occur later on when pro football has become established definitely.

The claim to the title which the Giants have, while genuine, does look a little irregular. The Bears, you will recall, went through the league campaign without a defeat. They have beaten the Giants three times in four starts, yet the one defeat they suffered carried away the world's title. Of course, the Bears cannot deny the right of the Giants to the title, they knew all the rules when they were playing all four of those games.

But suppose the St. Louis Cardinals, after winning the National league pennant and the world's series, extended their season until they had played a series with both the New York Giants and Detroit Tigers in California during November. Suppose, too, that in each of these series the Cardinals were severely trounced.

If such a policy became a customary practice in baseball, the world's series would become equivalent to the spring exhibition games that are played before the regular season starts.

The idea, not only would fail to draw, but it would probably put baseball completely out of business. However, that is the practice being followed by big-league football. The difference is that pro football, still in an experimental stage, has not yet accumulated years of historical tradition or set policies by which to be guided. The game is not yet old enough to be bothered by either statutory or common laws of the organization.

Pro football will learn as it ages that there are many problems, large and small, which have to be taken care of. Baseball still finds plenty to worry about but it has already taken care of the chronic diseases. The ones that bother it now are new ones which have developed since the game was established. Professional football, though, still has many of the chronic ailments for which remedies must be discovered in the laboratories of the expert gridiron chemists.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Two years after his appointment as successor to John F (.Chick) Meehan, Howard G. (Jake) Cann resigned as head football coach at New York university.

Elmer Layden assumed his duties as head football coach and athletic director at the University of Notre Dame.

Pittsburgh Minister Speaks On "What Is Wrong With The World" At Meeting

At 6:30 Thursday evening the Lutheran men of the city assembled in St. Paul's Lutheran church, West Grant street, for one of their get-to-gether good fellowship dinner meetings, with places arranged for 85.

The Rev. Paul J. Tau, of the Bethany Lutheran church, invoked the divine blessing, and Harold Clapie acted as master of ceremonies. The Rev. F. E. Stough, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, introduced the speaker; Dr. A. J. Hall, of Pittsburgh, who took as his theme, "Follow Me and I Will Make You Fishers of Men," stressing the fact that the individuals must be interested in the work of the Master.

At 8 p. m. the group went to the church auditorium, where a mass meeting was held, including men and women of the Lutheran churches of the district, and their friends.

The Rev. F. E. Stough presided and presented the speaker, Dr. Hall, after the Rev. Otto Maki, of the Finnish Lutheran church, had given the invocation.

At this time Dr. Hall took as his subject, "What Is Wrong With the World," basing his talk on the Ten Commandments as handed down in the time of Moses. He said that today men are leaving God out of the world, and God will forsake a world that forgets him. He concluded by saying that the commandments were as modern in need and purpose as they were thousands of years ago, when given to the people.

Over 600 Bills Now In Hopper Of Legislature

Indications That Session Is Likely To Be A Long Drawn Out Affair

By SYDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—With a growing mountain of more than 600 bills already in the hopper, Pennsylvania's politically divided legislature is bending a collective shoulder to one of the greatest tasks ever to confront that body in years.

Governor George H. Earle's administration measures are being sent swiftly through the House by the friendly Democratic majority, over to the Republican Senate, where they appear headed for delay at the hands of the G. O. P. majority.

Heading the legislative work assignment at present is the administration's bill to present Pennsylvania with a new constitution in January of next year. Passed by the House, the measure now rests in the Senate, which will conduct hearings on it as well as its own constitution bill submitted by Senator George L. Woodward. The Woodward bill provides a referendum on the question of a new constitution, an omission in the administration bill that has drawn fire from the Republicans.

The second section of Governor Earle's program to "bring the New Deal to Pennsylvania" is comprised of labor bills, headed by a state NRA act. These bills are now before the House, with indications they will be sent post-haste to the Senate as quickly as committees can report them to the floor for action. Other of the labor bills abolish child labor, reduce working hours for women and children, provide minimum wages and means to protect labor from 'fly-by-night" employers.

In addition to its already burdensome work schedule, the House will conduct an investigation of the state liquor stores system as requested by Governor Earle in his third appearance before the lower chamber. The probe will be conducted by a committee of seven appointed by Speaker Wilson G. Sarig.

Another of the major measures before the legislature is the bill of Representative Joseph B. Baines, Allegheny Democrat, to rip out the present public service commission. Although the governor has not revealed his official attitude on the present commission, Baines hopes to attract administration support for his measure.

Other bills soon to come before the legislature will embrace the governor's social welfare program which is dependent to a great extent upon the action of Congress in Washington in adopting the President's "social security" program. Liberalization of the workmen's compensation laws will be provided for in another batch of administration bills now being prepared by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti and his aides.

The governor's budget recommendations and enabling legislation will soon be given to the Assembly, after the executive has been given a more definite idea of the amount of federal funds the state can expect for relief purposes. Because of the unsettled condition of the relief situation at present, presentation of the budget message has been deferred.

Margiotti Plans Campaign Against Ambulance Chasing

Will Introduce Bill To Outlaw "Ambulance Chasing" Lawyers In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti revealed today he is drafting a bill on his own to strike at "ambulance chasing" lawyers.

The bill is to be introduced in the legislature next Monday night. The attorney general said he had not discussed the measure with Gov. George H. Earle but expected the governor to favor its adoption.

Solicitation of damage cases in any manner will be outlawed by the bill, Margiotti said.

Margiotti said Governor Earle might make a fourth appearance before the legislature to urge immediate action on the last phase of the executive's labor legislation program—liberalization of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Mayor McNair Will Not Enter "Marrying Mayor" Business, Is Contention

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Having performed two "free" wedding ceremonies in 10 minutes yesterday, Mayor William N. McNair today closed the books on his career as a "marrying mayor."

The rush of business that followed McNair's offer to marry young couples at no cost, the tips to go to charity, resulted in his decision to preside at no more weddings.

McNair's first performance as a parson united Miss Verlie Kernee, of Middletown, Pa., the mayor's former home town, and William Trabosh of Pittsville, Pa.

Trouble Occurs In Coal Truck

Allege Man Refused To Get Off Truck And Battle Ensues

Frank Trott was a defendant on a charge of drunkenness before Mayor Charles B. Mayne in city police court today and was held 24 hours pending adjustment for damage he is alleged to have done to a truck owned by Elmer R. Cornman, R. F. D. 4, at midnight last night in Cascade street.

According to Cornman, Trott got in the truck which was loaded with coal and when he attempted to remove Trott a fight started in which H. J. Welker, a companion of Cornman also was attacked by Trott and companions.

The gear shift of the car was broken while Trott was being dragged from the automobile and the fight resulted in Patrolmen Kennedy and Flinner cruising to the scene of trouble.

In making the arrest of Trott, the latter battled the police and this morning showed the effects of having been subdued by the police. His head was treated for lacerations at the New Castle hospital.

Mayor Mayne told Trott that he had the alternative of adjusting the matter with Cornman or facing probable charges of operating a motor vehicle while drunk and stealing the coal.
